The Edson Leader
The Voice of Edson Constituency

Edson, Alta., Wed., Jan. 10, 1968 Vol. 15, No. 1

Three years after setting up offices in Census Division No. 14, ARDA got the green light with specific money grants following approval by the Provincial and Federal Governments of programs recommended by committees of local people. The original concept of ARDA in practice in the area has been the encouragement of leadership through the men and women vitally concerned with upgrading their communities.

Committees have been meeting as often as every two weeks. This week's approval by the senior governments follows the local recommendations very closely, we were given to understand. When ARDA first came into the district this buildup of local participation was begun and now that the money is being made available for their projects definite progress will be there for all to see.

Not only has there been local participation but such people as Minister of Agriculture E. Stram, deputy ministers, members of ARDA from all across Canada and officials of the federal and provincial governments have come to the area numerous times over the past three years. Many of the visits have been unannounced and families being affected have been talked to and their views taken in account.

Perhaps we should preview progress from when Census Division 14 was designated as the first Rural Development area under

The next step was to divide the area into five development zones using "Trade Centres" as the criteria to divide the area into communities or zones. The zones are: Zone 1 West, Hinton, Zone 2 Central, Valdez, Zone 3 East Evansburg and Wilkerson, Zone 4 Mayntz, Zone 5 North, Wilkerson.

Office opened in the spring of 1963 with the appointment of the Regional Resource Coordinator for the area. The philosophy of the rural development program in C.D. 14 has been that the people in the area are best able to identify their problems, work out analyzing them and develop solutions considering

However, they must have facts from which to work, and, in many cases, they will require the assistance of experts in analyzing the facts. The role of the Rural Devel-

At their first meeting of the New Year on January 2nd, Edson Town Council received a cash offer of $2000 for the old arena building. The offer was made by Dale-Maynard Construction Limited and included removal of the building from the site. The offer was not accepted immediately. It was referred to the Works Committee for investigation and a report will be heard at the next meeting of Council.

Mayor M. D. Merade was in the chair. Councilors in attendance included I. Crawford, A. Grant, L. C. Hester, L. E. Kehler and E. Lemper.

The Fidelity bonds of R. C. George and Peter Sentias were placed before Council in accord with the provisions of the Town and Village Act.

The Secretary advised Council that no appeals had been received with respect to the Special Frontage Assessment imposed under By-Laws No. 1121 (sidewalk) No. 1123 (water) and No. 1124 (sewer), due notice having been given to the owners of the real properties affected by the provisions of the Town and Village Act.

Letters to the Editor

Letter to the Editor
Edson, Alberta

Dear Sir:
I am sure that all parents of our students were happy to see their children for the first time in the early days of last Thursday's blitz.

On the other hand I am sure they were quite up to the mark when they found that many lower grade students waited outside for up to an hour before their buses arrived.

We realize that the present generation may be a little more impatient than the generation that preceded them, but have you ever tried standing outside during a raging blizzard? Some of these children were so thoroughly chilled by the time they got home that it took their fathers to thaw them.

Surely with the amount of this money put into these schools there should be no need to have students outside, shivering in the cold.

There is more and more grumbling among both town and country people about the apparent dereliction of the schools. It appears that everyone from the Principal to the Council are laying down rules, not even considering someone else's rules, for the students to follow.

Granted, school can't be operated without rules, but a more human element could often be used, such as letting students wait in their classrooms until the buses arrive on Thursday.

While on the subject of school buses, some parents were quite perturbed on the days when the school buses didn't run to have their children say there isn't one in "going to school today" because we aren't doing anything anyway. It seems a shame in the last part of the century that the school buses should be so unreliable. I think it would be a good idea to have a more reliable system where it is applicable.

They will not be able to attend classes for a few days, thus giving a lot of extra attention to bring the class up to date when they return.

Edna M. Farrow

Dear Editor:
I've given this matter some thought over the past few days. I am sure that the parents of the students who were in the school on Thursday are quite concerned about the situation.

I want to thank the Edson School Division and the Edson School for their efforts in providing this building for the students to use on Thursday.

In a very short time, I hope to see the public concerned to make it a reality.

On the 11th of January, I attended a public meeting with other parents and the committee of the parent-teacher association.

Listening to a lot of the same criticism and suggestions, which the committee discussed, gave me a little more confidence that the Regional High School is a reality.

At the time of today our high school students try to obtain a more mature education. There are many who do not have a job. The school must obtain further training in Edmonton.

Edson's Rodeo Assoc. faces turning point

The future of the Edson Tri-Service Rodeo Association, and indeed the future of rodeos in Edson, hangs in the balance. It is quite possible that the future will be decided on Thursday, January 25th when a public meeting will be held in the Commodore Hotel banquet room. The meeting will start at 7:30.

The Tri-Service Rodeo and Exhibition Assoc. was formed in 1962 with the three service clubs in Edson: the Canadian Legion and Optimist as non-directors. Members of the three clubs made a board of directors and held elections to be all residents in an effort to give working capital.

Although the Tri-Service Assoc. does not hold any local events, the money proceeds from the rodeos are used to help the three clubs. A very small amount of the money is used to help the three clubs. A very small amount of the money is used to help the three clubs.

At the annual meeting, the three clubs will be asked to vote on whether to continue the association. The Tri-Service Assoc. and the three clubs will be asked to vote on whether to continue the association.

By this time many of the original Tri-Service members have moved away from Edson. Many members are interested in the rodeo and the members of any of the three clubs.

It is hoped that all of the members will be able to attend the meeting. The future of the association will be decided on Thursday, January 25th.

The decision as to what will become of the Rodeo Association will be made at the meeting.

It is hoped that all of the members will be able to attend the meeting. The future of the association will be decided on Thursday, January 25th.

A SAMPLE OF THE WHIFFESHU caught last weekend in Fickle Lake during the two day commercial season. This display was taken in a preliminary poll of their nets on Saturday, by John Capostinsky, Don Kolbe, Nap Aulin, Emil Morbec and Len Kolbe.

Fickle fish harvest better than average

Young drivers showed their prowess on the winter fun machines and it can be said that there will be a few sales made in the next few days. The two day open season has been scheduled on the weekend much to the enjoyment of families and riding spectators who are able to get out to the lake during the week.

This is the first year the two day open season has been scheduled on the weekend much to the enjoyment of families and riding spectators who are able to get out to the lake during the week.

Edson men appearing on Face Newsman

FRANKIE, "Face the Newsman" this Sunday (January 21) at 10:30 p.m. will feature Frank Delaney, the co-ordinator of Edson's rural development program in Canada Division 14.

Mr. Delaney will face newsman Doug Carson, publisher-owner of the Edson Leader. Edson's own freelance journalist Sam Morbey and CRRB newsman Mark Dymally.

Host and moderator of Face The Newsman, is David Hogg.

Next year it is hoped there will be a good turnout of local reporters at the meeting. Mr. Hogg will inform the meeting of the plans available for the future of the association.

It is hoped that all of the members will be able to attend the meeting. The future of the association will be decided on Thursday, January 25th.

Credit Union annual meeting

The Edson Credit Union will hold its annual general meeting on Wednesday, January 24th. The meeting will take place in the Commodore Hotel banquet room starting at 6:30 p.m.

A review of the past year and progress of the Credit Union will be given by President Peter Taylor. The meeting will be held in the Commodore Hotel banquet room.

It is hoped that all of the members will be able to attend the meeting. The future of the association will be decided on Thursday, January 25th.

The decision as to what will become of the Rodeo Association will be made at the meeting.

GAME BIOLOGISTS were on hand at Fickle Lake to weigh and measure a cross section of fish netted. Scale samples were also taken by biologists Gerry Lynch, at left, and Chuck Lane. Steve Radomski is the interested bystander.

A Commons Occurrence

A common occurrence in the House of Commons seems to be votes on important issues with small numbers of members in the chamber. Last week a resolution that would have killed first class mail was carried for the first time was defeated by a vote of 14 to 11. That means that there were only 25 members out of 265 Members of Parliament in the house at the time the vote was taken. Twenty members constitute a quorum for business according to present house rules.

The government was not defeated because it was not a non-confidence vote. We do complain about too few members in the current situation. The main one has to do with the low attendance in the Commons when important business is being transacted. The other matter has to do with non-confidence motions.

There should be more freedom for members to vote on their conscience and according to the representations from the constituency which each member represents. A government should not have to resign or consider itself defeated just because some of its bills are defeated. This is particularly true where a minority government is in power.

When a government presents a bill for consideration of the legislature, legislators should always be free to vote according to the desires of their constituents and should not have to be absent or vote along party lines contrary to the wishes of their people. There can never be true democracy or representative government until such freedom is provided.

There is no reason why provincial and federal governments could not function as well as municipal governments by this free voting policy. Municipal governments do not vote along party lines and they function effectively.

In level we would urge that more members be in their places to transact the business of our country and that more members vote according to the desires of their constituents, rather than along party lines.

—James Hays

Editorial Notes

I could smile when I see the hopeful evaluation of many at the new youth of worldly science and vigor of worldly effort, as if we were again at the beginning of days. But there is thunder on the horizon as well as at the dawn. — John Rustin.

We tell a corner of the earth today, And call it ours because we do not see. That it belongs to those who led the way. And to the men and women yet to be.

Minor Hockey Week kicks off January 20

That familiar but so important slogan "Take your boy to the arena, don't send him" should be in the uppermost part of parents' minds during the week January 20 to January 27.

Saturday, January 20th is the start of "Minor Hockey Week in Canada." The Edmonton Amateur Hockey Association is going all out to promote a full week of hockey action for young and old.

On Saturday, Jan. 20, the boys' and girls' leagues will be in session at 6:00 p.m. (Last year every league was in session at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday.)

The girls' league will be in session at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 20. The boys' league will be in session at 6:00 p.m. on Saturday, Jan. 20.

Council passes tax penalty By-law

On a recommendation from the Finance Committee, Edson Town Council at their meeting on January 19th, passed a By-law providing for the imposition of a penalty of two per cent on all current taxes remaining unpaid on the 15th day of each of the months of August through November in any one year of levy.

This will be used in place of the current tax discount system. It will make it possible to lower the mill rate by four mills and will also be an advantage in collection.

The four mill reduction will be at a slight advantage over the five per cent discount for those who were in the habit of paying their taxes early in the year. The taxpayer who is late will have to pay an additional two per cent per month after July 30th. It will be to the advantage of all property owners to pay early and save.

Mayor M. B. Meade was in the chair. Council members were J. Crawford, A. Grant, J. Griffiths, F. Hicks and J. Kehrer. Council granted in principle to the operation of the Municipal Employees' Union, subject to the approval of the Works Committee. Council also passed a resolution to purchase a new Public Library on account of the acquisition of the old building.

A letter was read from the Department of Public Works regarding the acquisition of the old building. The letter stated that the building was to be sold to the Province of Alberta for $100,000. The letter also stated that the building was to be sold to the Province of Alberta for $100,000.

C of C hears of ARDA programs

The Chamber of Commerce heard an enlightening report on the activities of ARDA at their last meeting on January 17. This was particularly interesting because of the recent approval of the ARDA program in CD-14 by senior governments and the availability of nearly four million dollars for upgrading the agricultural industry in this area.

The report was given by John Hemmes, manager of the local Treasury Branch and chairman of the Chamber's agricultural committee. Mr. Hemmes explained how ARDA had started by an Act of Parliament, CD-14, encompassing the area from Medicine Hat to the Wheatbelt area, had been selected as the pilot project in Alberta.

Speaking of the land clearing project which is about to begin Mr. Hemmes said it is not the aim of ARDA just to clear the land, but more important, to give the farmer the money to farm his land in the best of its productivity. The money available for land clearing won't just go to the farmer, but rather an investment in a more productive and better farm area.

Mr. Hemmes spoke of the re-education program that ARDA is carrying out to train rural people, instead of farming

A long time in arriving

We picked up the mail on Saturday and did a double take when we read the notice on the front of one envelope. It said, "Returned from Germany January 19, 1968, forward Mail System, Winnipeg, Manitoba."

The letter was from an advertising agency in Calgary regarding an advertisement that was to run December 12 last year. To top it all off it didn't even belong to The Leader.

The address read: The Western Country News, c/o D.M. Canlon, Edson, Alta. Not only did it take the long way around, but it was directed to the wrong destination. It just goes to prove that people are human.

The Indian population and for everyone who will and then when of the opportunity to help themselves. ARDA may spend a half million a year on education, but the money will be returned there hold as most productive lines.

Mr. Hemmes said among the projects planned for this year ARDA would upgrade the present forestry roads so that logging and fishing areas would be more available. He also said that the Silver Summit six event north of Edson would be as used by this time next year, bringing added business to town through the visitors from other areas.

Agreement signing an historic moment

In the next ten years, federal provincial ARDA will spend $1,600,000 on clearing and breaking land in Census Division 14 (Edson-Hinton-Whitecourt area)

An important moment for CD-14 came on Tuesday afternoon when Federal Forestry and Rural Development Minister Murray Sturge and Provincial Agriculture Minister H.E. Strom signed an agreement that will see the beginning of a 30-9 million dollar project encompassing the 11,700 square mile area of CD-14.

It's your Credit Union... and it's yours. St. Jacques, Alberta Credit Union Federation field representative to 42 Edson Savings and Credit Union members last Wednesday evening at its 24th annual meeting and banquet held in the Commodore Hotel.

"There's why your whole family belongs in the Credit Union... you save with common sense and power safety, earn above-average dividends, and obtain low-cost loans for any good purpose," he said. Dan Kichinski, CUNA Mutual Insurance Society representative of the Edson Credit Union has been presiding over since which awards your annual loan balance if you die in some case, become disabled and the life savings insurance payable on insurable share savings deposits. Dollars saved in your credit union can life savings insurance and you don't touch your neck out when you borrow from your Credit Union. The Edson Union offers low interest loans plus CUNA Mutual loan protection insurance and double they double your savings insurance. All this at no cost to the borrower or member.

Treasurer Jan Scott declared that the Edson Savings and Credit Union is growing as it grows the membership committee presented on that there is a Alberta Agriculture Minister H.E. Strom, and Federal Forestry and Rural Development Minister Murray Sturge, in signing the agreement of a comprehensive plan for CD-14, included a project whereby, association will be given to farmers in the area to break and clear land in order that they may establish self-sustaining farm units.

It was stated that the 100,000 acres will be approximately 750 farm families in the area. The order to break and clear land will be given to the farmers in order that they may establish self-sustaining farm units.

The project will be under the direction of the director of the project, Mr. H.W. Hargrave, Head of the project, and the project will be under the direction of the project, Mr. H.W. Hargrave, Head of the project, and the project will be under the direction of the project, Mr. H.W. Hargrave, Head of the project.

None police constables

At a special meeting on this day night Edson Local Council confirmed successful application of members of the Police Department.

Already on duty are Donald Popoff, who was installed at the end of December as a temporary police officer, Charles E. McDonald, who comes from Port Moody, B.C., already in duty, Ronald J. Capper who will arrive in Edson on February 20 from Daprin Valley and Stanley A. Rait of Square Grove who will commence duty on February 22.

It is hoped that all who are concerned with the future of Edson will take the opportunity to attend future meetings of the project association. Ideas of interested citizens are needed to form a strong association and to make the 1968 the most successful to date.

Roads cleared for this year

Local residents were assured of a road in 1968 as a result of the general meeting of the Edson Volunteer Roads-Head last Thursday evening.

It was felt the annual road meeting was an important event from a business and recreation point of view to let at deep. There would almost certainly have been no roads had not the three service clubs decided to continue as they are until after this meeting.

At the meeting a commitment was set up to do over ways of developing the project. The association will be the association of all concerned and at the same time forming a new road association to carry on with the roads in future years.

It was a moment of fulfillment for ARDA co-ordinator Frank Beyer, when Federal Minister Murray Sturge, at left, and Provincial Agriculture Minister H.E. Strom, at right signed the agreement on Tuesday that will see the beginning of the project in CD-14. The project has taken three years of research and groundwork in preparation for this moment which is the beginning of the action promised when ARDA was first opened in 1965.

EDITORIAL

A MAN OF THE PEOPLE

Lieutenant Governor Grant MacEwan is a man of the people and this was never more in evidence than when he gave the inaugural Memorial "The Scotsman" address he had heard and many guests that evening said Mr. MacEwan's address, alone, was worth attending the affair for all of us.

Like Robert Burns, Grant MacEwan is making a contribution to his country in a way that few men do.

Born in Manitoba of pioneering stock he moved to Saskatchewan with his family at an early age. He is a graduate of the Ontario Agricultural College at Guelph, and also took post graduate work at Iowa State College. For 15 years he was on the faculty of the University of Saskatchewan. Following this he was Dean of Agriculture at the University of Manitoba for six years.

Mr. MacEwan has contributed widely in agricultural journals and has several pioneering books to his credit, thereby helping to keep alive the stories of our early days, the stories that are needed to leave an accurate record of our history for future generations.

A long time Liberal he became a by-election in Manitoba. Luckily for Albertans he was defeated and shortly afterwards moved to Calgary where he was elected as a member of the Alberta Legislature, then as a member of Calgary City Council and was Mayor of Calgary when appointed as Lieutenant Governor.

Since being selected as the Queen's representative in Alberta Mr. MacEwan has probably been more active than any other person who has filled this post. He endears himself to everyone with his warm humbling and friendly personality.

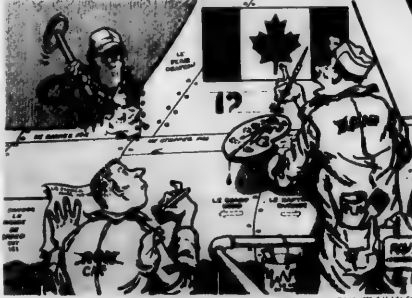

We met him first a few years ago at Waldwood when he made a presentation to a little girl who had saved the lives of her brothers and sisters when their house caught on fire. Following this he planned a tree near the Community Hall (a practice wherever he appears in person).

A public reception and lunch was planned in the hall at which a number of people were able to make his acquaintance. Before leaving to return to Edmonton Mr. MacEwan had a handshake and a word for everyone in the hall, including the nonplussed ladies in the kitchen. His Aide granted and explained that "This happens wherever we go."

Whether he is attending an Indian pow-wow, attending a public affair in some small community or meeting government officials he presides with distinction and affability. His personality and his bright smile have stood out in any gathering. His friendly wave to the cameramen as he skirted across the front page of the Edmonton Journal last week was typical of this friendly man whom we were privileged to welcome to Edmonton last Sunday.

GRATITUDE FOR A JOB WELL DONE

Local parents and all those interested in the future of sports in Edson should, this week, be giving a big vote of thanks to the men who organized and ran off the Minor Hockey activities from January 20 through January 27th. The organizers of the week long activities are not the only ones who deserve a big hand. Minor Hockey Week activities in Edson would not even have been possible had it not been for the businesses and organizations who came forward to sponsor the teams and pay for uniforms and equipment. Secondly, the uniforms and equipment would not do them much good without the managers and coaches who spend hours every week instructing the boys in the rules of hockey and good sportsmanship.

One man does stand out in last week's competitions and probably every coach will back up on this. This was Tony Bawol, who more or less led at the risk of a life in making arrangements for game officials, time keepers, scorers, cashiers, etc., then being sure that they arrived on time and that everything went off smoothly.

Congratulations, men, on a well organized, smoothly run Minor Hockey Week. Your contributions to the youth of Edson will be remembered by these boys long after they have passed the age of taking part in minor league sports.

Speeches of Praise
It is about a custom wherever there is a sales tax increase for politicians to warn that merchandise, wholesalers and retailers must not hike prices prematurely. "We will not permit ourselves to be misled," the politicians usually say. "We will not permit the public to be misled."

However, when governments are in business things are quite different, as indicated by figures regarding the prices of beer and liquor made public following the most recent sales tax increase. The specific figures are for the province of Ontario, but the principle would apply everywhere.

Of the $2.20 paid for a 24 bottle case of beer, 45 cents goes to the sales agent, 47 cents to the province, $1.11 to the distributor. Of the $2.20 paid for a bottle of Canadian whisky, $1.31 goes to the province, $1.10 to the distributor, $1.10 to the distributor. Of the $2.20 paid for a bottle of Scotch, $1.31 goes to the province, $1.10 to the distributor, $1.10 to the distributor. — CTS.

Can't Happen Here?

In the simplest terms, the financial crisis in Britain which reached recently in the handling of another devaluation of the pound sterling was under production of the economy and not emotion of the currency. Indeed, due in large part to higher oil and wage costs, was pricing British goods out of the market. The capital to improve industrial productivity was not available, or was not being in a real industrial sense. Britain's fate could hardly be denied.

In his speech as retiring President of the Cotton Institute of Canada, Mr. P. Ryland Daniels was right to the point: "What has recently happened to Great Britain can happen to Canada and is a long term solution. Growth of this and other industries will be hurt. The blame must fall on the mismanagement of government. It is not enough for the federal government to cut down its own programs of social services. The cuts must go deeper; reductions must be made from existing government overhead. It is to be hoped that labor in general, and labor leaders in particular, are truly conscious of the economic problems which beset us all."

Because of devaluation of the pound, Mr. Daniels pointed out, manufacturers in Canada will face new part of our export market but because of inflation in Great Britain, other countries such as Israel, Spain and Hong Kong have also devalued their currencies, then Canada is not expected to export to any greater extent than before. Portugal, in spite of its devaluation, because of its trade relations with the sterling block, will be under continuing pressure to devalue and possibly will do so when politically expedient.

"Certainly this industry can be thankful that it has the foreign, fortunate and funds to bring it to today's high degree of efficiency. What we need to do is to continue to modernize our equipment and our plant layout today and we will be in a position to continue to improve."

Britons are suffering higher living costs, rising unemployment. Their one hope is to control inflation, increase their productivity. Canadians must not be lulled by Mr. Daniels' warning that their position is not invulnerable.

MR. AND MRS. RICHARD D. STAKICH

The Second Heart Church was the setting for a holiday season wedding on December 28th that united in marriage Miss Frances Stakich and Richard D. Stakich. Father George Conner, C. M. B. officiated for the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William F. Gertie and the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Stakich, all of Idaho. The church was decorated in a seasonal Christmas theme with red bows marking the event. Mrs. Margaret Calhoun played the wedding music and accompanied soloist Miss Frances Stakich. The bride was given in marriage by her father. For the wedding the bride chose a floor length gown of white tulle with full length

THIS UNIQUE CHURCH owned by 14-year-old Mary Jane Kurylo is truly good enough to eat. The church is set on a cardboard base with white-painted walls and roof. There were three covered with icing, a lot of a time, and candles were stuck into the icing. The roof was made of graham wafers and the windows were real stained glass. And the front door really opens. Mary Jane made it for a Christmas decoration. She is a young grade 6 in Edmonton this year. One of her hobbies is decorating and she makes many of her own clothes.

Of course the first highlight of the evening was the playing of the hymns. Mrs. Papenick, a youthful Edmonton paper performed this home followed by Arthur Miller bearing the plates of haggis to the table.

One of the best seen at the EMMA game was up with his arms raised in celebration of ribbons to the first three stars of each game. The idea was not well received and the players were told to raise their outside arms when they wanted the colors of the Ed.

Following a regime of the various music hockey leagues during the week, the three stars began to be under.

one goal in their contrasting win over Clinton. The line of Chris Ouellette, Bernie Hanna and Tony Brown picked up a total of five goals and six assists for an eleven point effort. Ouellette and Hanna each scored twice with the remaining Edmonton goals scored by Mike Parvick, Lou Mills, Dave Muir, Nick Antkowiak, Mel Soltyz, Tom Brown and Werner Slomkowski.

Jack Berthelson turned in a stellar performance for Edmonton in the nets and had no chances on the only goal, scored by how I ought to act even before I am asked. The average person who reads the Bible is not likely to be able to live in this confidence. He has learned that he is a sinner, and he is doing his little different attempts to make himself better, but he has not been taught by the Bible and by the Holy Spirit. As Alexander Pope has said, as the Isaac in the Bible, "I have seen the tree, but I have not the fruit."

Most of the people and nations do not live of different convictions. They are not living by the example before them that they can be so free that they thereby have no sin, and consequently are not free from their reluctance to be so free as to receive grace.

It is so many's nature to be so free that they are not so free as to be free. It is so many's nature to be so free that they are not so free as to be free. It is so many's nature to be so free that they are not so free as to be free.

In as his conscience, or his feelings tell him. Thus surely does not mean at all that what the conscience directs is good. This is morally bad. The only thing which comes up is that what good comes out of it had? Does the Gallipoli or the martyr's life or the life of a thief?

Is it that which makes us the most money good? The answer for the freedom to do or not to do does not lie in whether OR in ourselves. Freedom is not to do as one pleases.
 The Word of God strongly warns against that kind of grace, that is paying for the debts we have made with God by our disobedience. By the power of His Spirit He takes us on His way, and gives us a new desire so that we may be free to do and not to do according to the will of God.

True freedom is a change of loyalty, away from the bondage of sin and a whole-hearted acceptance of allegiance to God

JUSTIFIABLY PROUD of their latest achievement are Edward Romanish and his sister, Mrs. Elsie Pyar, here holding their first long playing release, The Romanish Family, which was just recently released by the Camp Co. Ltd. of Canada on Jeeves's Point label, No. P-322. The Romanish recording artists are Edward and Elsie in Edson and another sister, Mrs. Ann Fazel of Robb, 1967 by Peter Blair, local Phys Ed teacher. They have had 45's released before but this is their first major release. The record is available in several local stores.

Club News

441 Bow Club News
The Edson 441 Bow Club held their regular meeting on Monday, January 29th in the ARHA conference room. About 18 bowlers took part in the meeting. The meeting was called to order by President Terry Black. Roll call was answered by the club members.

A guest away party was given on December 29th for Mr. Campbell, our leader. Mr. Campbell is moving to Edmonton. Each member donated $10 for a house plate which was presented on the night of the party.

The newly appointed leader of the club, Mr. Campbell, was presented with a plaque by the club members. The Achievement Day will be held on Saturday, June 1st.

CARD OF THANKS
I would like to extend sincere thanks to my friends for their visits, gifts and messages of good wishes while I was a patient in the Royal Alex Hospital.

PTA meeting proves interesting

The Wildwood Parent Teacher group met in the Wildwood School on Wednesday, January 11. President John Sennik presided over the meeting at which approximately 100 people were present.

Mr. Sennik gave his PTA's report. Two main points he discussed were the bus system for the senior high school students attending in January, and the arrangements that have been made for the supervision of children at recess and noon.

A grade three summer project "The Little Red Line and the Sky Above It" was on display. The grade three teacher, Mr. Vandenbosch, is confident her procedure for examining and testing such a project.

Mr. Vandenbosch, the senior high school mathematics teacher, demonstrated the "new method" of division compared to the old method.

Mr. Bill Lemishka, School Inspector, presented a report from the School Board. A very interesting highlight of the evening was the date by Mrs. Helen Sennik depicting her in Nigeria.

Plans are being made for Mr. Sennik to show slides of Ethiopia at the next meeting. The date will be announced through the school children.

Edson, Alta., Wed. Mar. 6, 1968 Vol. 15 No. 10

having snapped a picture of her cake. Helping her celebrate this once in four year event are Michelle and Colleen Coxe.

Local residents die in tragic accident

A tragic accident last Thursday, February 29, took the lives of three young people of the Edson, Hanna, Swan Hill area when Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Schmelz were killed instantly in a head-on collision near Onaway.

Mr. and Mrs. Schmelz, married in Swan Hills only a month or so ago from Hanna. They were travelling south on Highway 43 when their half-ton truck was in collision with a half-ton station wagon. The two men in the other vehicle were also killed instantly.

Involved in the accident were the two sons of Mr. and Mrs. Schmelz, five year old Gerry and two year old Terry. They were taken to the Royal Alexandra Hospital where they still remain. Mr. and Mrs. Schmelz have three other children, a son Stanley and two daughters, Deborah and Sherry.

Mr. Schmelz is also assisted by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Schmelz of Edson, two brothers, Walter and Elmer and three of Hanna, one sister, Mrs. Stanley Mary Haywood of Lacombe. Mrs. Schmelz is survived, besides her children, by her mother, Mrs. Nettie B. Coxe of Edson, one sister, Mrs.

Ona Walshaw of Vermilion, four brothers, Paul, Edward, Clarence and Ronald, all in Edmonton.

The Schmelz family grew up on the Pioneer District, having their schooling there, before moving to Edson and Hanna. They are well known in all of these districts.

The funeral service took place in Lutheran Church in Edson on March 4th. Rev. John Laidlaw conducted the service and interment took place in Greenwood Cemetery in Edson.

For Edson a bereft hand has been started for the children.

No relief coming in tax situation

This was a rather small turnout of local residents at the Annual Rate-payers Meeting last Monday evening. The major share of the interest seemed to centre around the Finance Committee report given by Commissioner Ed Hacks, a very clear and concise statement. Mr. Hacks referred to the city's 1967-68 budget, a total of $2,700,000 and debt charges of approximately $500,000 which two items accounted for the 11 mill rate, as well as the advance from Photo House approximately $10,000 on School costs and $10,000 in debt charges for the library.

Commissioner Hacks stated that the deficit of $1,131,111 which was drawn from the accumulated reserve, compared favourably with the anticipated deficit of $1,800,000. He then reported that the city had a surplus of approximately $1,000,000 in reserve and, in the absence of a most reluctant on the part of the voters, the reduction of the expenditures by $10,000.

The Council also met with Mayor and other members of the Finance Committee who have been the Mayor of Edson and Municipal Affairs and the President of the Board of Education. They discussed the city's financial situation and the Mayor's report on the city's financial situation. The Mayor's report was a very clear and concise statement of the city's financial situation. He stated that the city's financial situation was not as good as it had been in previous years. He stated that the city's financial situation was not as good as it had been in previous years. He stated that the city's financial situation was not as good as it had been in previous years.

EMO Rescue course trains for emergencies

An outline of the Emergency Medical Operations (EMO) course to be held here the week of March 11 through 16, would indicate of action by and interest.

The first night there will be a display and explanation of team vehicle and equipment. That same evening there will be instruction in the various levels used in rescue work.

The rest of the course will include work with fiber optics, wire ropes and chains, knots and lashing for "A" frames, derricks and tripod work with jacks, pulleys, blocks and tackle and generative. Building construction and repair, and damage to buildings. Casualty collection, first aid, and stages of rescue. Care and handling of bodies. Methods of rescue.

There will be lectures, drills, and practical exercises, and the course will close with a film called Rescue Party.

There have already been considerable efforts to train complete teams and EMO coordinators. Donald Hodge is helping for a minimum of 25 participants. There will be two instructors on hand for the course.

The course is open for men and women 18 years of age and over. Anyone interested in taking the local EMO course should contact Donald Hodge at the Medical Centre, George Buckle at Emergency School or John at Edson General Hospital.

Members of the Edson Flying Club almost got this plane operational last weekend when Bob Bell of Calgary came up to put together what he had taken apart earlier. The club purchased the plane from Mr. Bell who agreed to overhaul it when needed. He had recently recovered the wings, overhauled the engine, etc. and came up Friday to put it together with help from club members. Here Peter Hatcher works on the wing as Mr. Bell pumps down to get a better look. Future pilot Johnny Crawford was on hand almost all day Friday and proved a good little ground crew. The finishing touches will be put on the plane this weekend.

NADP wins award

The Evansburg branch of the Southern Alberta Dairy Pool was awarded the fourth prize for best quality milk produced during 1967. The prize was awarded to H. Schmeidler, who is in charge of the milk department at Evansburg.

The prize was an award from the Dairy Farmers' Convention in Edmonton. It is based on the best quality of both raw and finished products received and manufactured during the last one year. The competition is open to all dairy plants in the province. It is interesting to note that all winners were from small dairies.

The milk that is processed in the Evansburg plant is picked up in the Lison Dairy Division's processing plant. The milk is then sent to branch offices in the area served by the Evansburg plant so that Lison residents are among those who are drinking this top grade milk.

plex and stuff for the aroma of the grapes, and the bouquet of the wine.

1. Sip, sipping the wine around on the tongue. Note tartness or richness, up again and again, noting in turn the deeper of sweetness or dryness, the body, the flavor—its richness, and empty the palate.

2. Experienced tasters clear their palate, between tastings with a piece of cheese, a cracker, or a little water. They let the dry wines before the sweet wines, and rest too many wines at one time.

The Dukan Stall had fruit cake and cheese with their wine.

Pine Grove Elementary School official opening

Official Opening Tuesday, March 5th

The general public was cordially invited to attend the official opening of the Pine Grove Elementary School on Tuesday, March 5th. An open postern was provided at this time, to loan the building and portake of a light lunch supplied by the volunteer help of some of the parents and the teachers.

Distinguished guests invited were: J. W. McConaghy, Alberta Teachers' Association Publicity Officer; J. M. McMillan, President of the Edson Local of the AEA; Mr. M. D. Meade, Mayor of Edson; G. Monson, Chairman of the Edson School Division; R. A. Bessette, Superintendent of the Edson School Division; Mr. J. P. Marshall, Assistant Superintendent of the Edson School Division; Mr. J. Bergquist, Assistant Superintendent of the Edson School Division; Edson Divisional School Board Members; Edson Local School Board Members; some of the early residents of the Pine Grove area and Edson P. Meade.

An interesting program consisting of musical numbers by the Lakeview Grade six pupils and a South Sea dance by Mrs. A. Alberer's Grade 5 pupils provided commendable entertainment.

Wood is a changing world

By Mrs. M. Page

Mrs. Nelson was born in Wisconsin, where she attended the Public and High School for all of her schooling. Her teacher training was obtained at the Ontario Normal School.

After teaching in various schools in Alberta she married Thomas Nelson of Lacombe and they made their home in Edmonton.

Following the death of her husband, Mrs. Nelson continued her teaching in the Edmonton Normal School in 1917. Later she transferred to the A.H. Hanks School where she has continued to teach grade 7 and 8 until the present time.

Now, under kinder mood, Mrs. Nelson made much of her teaching in the Edmonton Normal School. She has taught in a variety of schools and has earned on many of the high level years and has taught in the present time.

During the days when there were no high school facilities in the rural areas, Mrs. Nelson often had to provide for the education of her own children. She offered them an opportunity to continue their schooling, which they would not have had otherwise.

Apart from her active life as a teacher, Mrs. Nelson is a Past Master of the Order of the Eastern Star. For many years she was a volunteer in the Lacombe Public Library.

After a strenuous day at school, Mrs. Nelson often finds relaxation in a comfortable chair, a cigarette and a good mystery story.

Mrs. Nelson has one son, Jack, a student at Lacombe, and three grandchildren, including one in Edmonton.

In dealing her experiences as a teacher, Mrs. Nelson has made many friends and colleagues, saying that teaching is a most varied and often very exciting profession.

Education for the Future

By Mr. R. Bonetti

As a parent, one often finds it difficult to keep up with the rapid changes in education. The role of the parent is to provide a supportive environment for their child's learning.

The role of the parent is to provide a supportive environment for their child's learning. This involves being involved in their child's education and providing encouragement and support.

Preparing students for the future is a challenge for educators. It requires a focus on developing critical thinking and problem-solving skills, as well as a strong foundation in basic knowledge.

One way to prepare students for the future is through a focus on interdisciplinary learning. This allows students to see the connections between different subjects and develop a more holistic understanding of the world.

Another important aspect of preparing students for the future is the development of soft skills. These include communication, teamwork, and leadership, which are essential for success in the modern workforce.

Finally, it is important to ensure that students have access to quality education. This involves investing in teacher training and providing the resources needed for a high-quality learning environment.

By focusing on these key areas, we can better prepare our students for the challenges of the future and ensure they are equipped with the skills and knowledge they need to succeed.

Education is the foundation for a bright future. By working together, we can create a system that truly prepares our students for the challenges ahead.

Let us commit ourselves to the task of providing the best possible education for every child, so that they can reach their full potential and contribute to the betterment of our society.

Together, we can build a future that is full of opportunity and hope for all. Let us strive for excellence in everything we do, and let us never stop learning.

Education is not just a job, it is a calling. It is a responsibility that we all share, and it is one that we must take seriously. Let us embrace this responsibility and work together to make a difference.

For the sake of our children, let us strive to be the best we can be. Let us be educators who inspire, who challenge, and who support. Let us be the ones who make a difference in the lives of our students.

Education is the key to a better future. Let us use this key to unlock the potential of every child and to build a world that is truly a better place for all.

Let us work together to create a future that is full of hope and possibility. Let us be the ones who make a difference, and let us never stop striving for excellence.

Education is the foundation of our future. Let us build it on a solid base of knowledge, skill, and character. Let us ensure that every child has the opportunity to succeed and to make a positive contribution to the world.

Together, we can create a future that is truly bright and full of promise. Let us work together to make that future a reality for all of our children.

To You the Readers

The purpose of this Education Supplement is to provide you with the latest news and information on education. It is a free service provided to you by the Edmonton Public Schools Board.

As teachers, it is our hope that you will find the reading and news both entertaining and enlightening. Please do not stop thinking about education when you have finished this supplement. Let us know what you think and we will be glad to make any necessary changes.

A supplement such as this is not published automatically. It owes its existence to the many teachers and other educationists who have contributed. Appreciation must be extended to the Edmonton School Division for its cooperation. Special thanks must be paid to Mrs. and Mr. J. H. Easton for advice and effort beyond the call of duty.

Again, the teacher of your children may find this supplement a valuable tool. We are interested in your child's education and will be glad to provide you with the latest news and information on education.

The need for Physical Education

By Mr. R. Burt

From "Physical Training" to "Physical Education" has been a surprisingly short step in terms of common usage if not in terms of a complete philosophy. As a modern man, we are quick to accept the idea that physical activity should be looked at from the standpoint of personal fitness, the leisure and time, as a leisure activity that is both enjoyable and enriching, and one that helps in the promotion of the general welfare of society.

Now, as the way we have moved into the age of the affluence, society both more and more spread than ever before and greater leisure time, we have spread of the free day work. We would expect the great amount of leisure time, now, is the time for leisure.

How long until activities, and much on products, to be, happen to this to the day and there have been the world and world to be, and my of this leisure time to be, much the responsibility of the education and making one of the great aims of education, of Physical Education.

Realization of this aim, however, requires acceptance of the need for physical education.

Value Of Education Well Known Fact

Education has long been held to be a human right. The nature of education has varied from age to age depending upon the kind of society in which it existed. In general it was held to be good for the person who had received it. If it gave access to the wisdom and ideas of his contemporaries and of past ages, it enabled him to understand and enjoy the world's treasury whether of religion, of philosophy, of politics, of history, or of science or of art. It was one of the pillars of civilization and, at the time, it was one of the pillars of civilization. All of this is still true and important. Among the products of educational effort are a high enlightenment and a growth which is brought to the individual.

More recently, mankind has become increasingly aware of the enormous value of education.

commodity and its status of a necessity indicate the fact of its need to remain an educational activity. It is unfortunately true that Physical Education has, to date, exhibited little in the way of systematic development. A broad base of physical activity should be looked at from the standpoint of personal fitness, the leisure and time, as a leisure activity that is both enjoyable and enriching, and one that helps in the promotion of the general welfare of society.

Now that leisure time is spreading more and more, we have spread of the free day work. We would expect the great amount of leisure time, now, is the time for leisure.

New Approach to Music

By Mrs. J. Buchert

As we have progressed in education we have also made a great step toward the field of music.

Music becomes an important and children of the world are interested in the music and it is not taught merely as a hobby or as a means of entertainment. It is taught as a means of expression and as a means of communication. It is taught as a means of expression and as a means of communication. It is taught as a means of expression and as a means of communication.

School Library Program

By Mrs. Newell

One of the phases of educational progress upon which the Edson School Library has placed much emphasis within recent years has been that of school library service. This interest has been evident both in new building plans and in the re-planning of facilities within older buildings wherever possible.

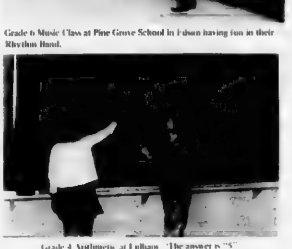

Most money has been spent and will continue to be needed in ever increasing amounts for the library program. What, then, is the function of a library program which is not to be a place where books are stored but a place where they are used?

It is to attempt to answer such questions would involve a rather complex report on what the schools of today are seeking to accomplish, and this is not the place for such a report.

However, it becomes the place of the library to act as a laboratory for all subjects, and for all teachers. It must be a place where the student can find the materials of every possible type, to collect books and other resource items to answer almost any question, to give the student the materials of every possible type, to collect books and other resource items to answer almost any question.

Edson's new Vocational and Composite High School

By M. D. Madsen

Some September, 1968, when high school pupils in Edson will be moving into their new quarters in the Vocational Composite High School.

The word "Composite" will do the most accurately the nature of this new school than the word "Vocational". The program offered will cover a wide variety of subjects from the purely academic to the purely vocational.

The new school should develop within a very few years a vocational education program which will make it possible for graduates to go directly into business or into the trades without having to attend a separate vocational school.

It is hoped that the new school will be a place where the student can find the materials of every possible type, to collect books and other resource items to answer almost any question.

Evergreen School Grouping methods

By George Buckle

In many ways new teaching methods are being developed in the field of education. One of the most important of these is the grouping of students into small groups.

There are many reasons for this. One is that it allows the teacher to give more individual attention to each student. Another is that it allows the student to learn from his peers.

Creative Expression in Art

By Mr. P. Shuman

Education and others concerned with the creative and mental development of children agree that the art program is an important part of the child's development as an individual and as a member of a democratic society.

While the art activities are carried on in our classrooms, we do not contribute to the development of the child as an individual and as a member of a democratic society.

The "creative expression" method gives the child the opportunity to choose his own subject matter for his art. Once the child has chosen the subject, he has the freedom to express and to create in his own way.

The "imposed method" approach limits the child's choice of subject matter, but it gives him freedom to express and to create in his own way.

The "copy method" directs the child to copy a work of art. This type of approach usually results in the copying of the work of the artist, rather than the child's own expression.

A method useful to the "copy method" is the "step method" which is a step by step method where the teacher directs the procedure and the child follows it.

young hand exercise. Here the child is required only to add his own to a prepared drawing.

If the methods of procedure imposed, the "creative expression" method and the "copy method" are compared, the "creative expression" method is clearly superior to the "copy method" in the development of the child. The other methods are useful in teaching the development of a child and in teaching the methods of teaching art as a profession and as a craft.

If the "creative expression" method is used, the child's overall growth is greatly aided by the freedom that is given to him in his own expression.

This method gives the child personally meaningful art activities. Here the child chooses the subject or idea that is most meaningful to him. The student has the opportunity to develop his own ideas to the best of his ability.

Here the child has freedom of expression in order to create at the point he has selected himself. The child sets his own goal and his own standards. Usually these goals and standards are realistic, and are more meaningful than the goals that may be set by the teacher.

People are not compelled to work at a certain speed. Each child is given the opportunity to work at his own speed.

Students are involved with the various art activities, they develop self-reliance. As the work progresses, a person's student content is evaluated by work in relation to his goal and the work of his peers. Judgments that are made in this way with his own work and that of others develop artistic awareness in the child.

The "creative expression" method also gives the child the opportunity to work at his own speed and to work at his own level. When one student is ready, and another is not, the teacher can give the student the opportunity to work at his own level.

The "creative expression" method is a long art activity, but it is the only method that can play a very large role in the creative and mental development of the child. Any other method of teaching art is an inferior method and usually one that does more harm than good to the child.

Art activities that take place as a result of the "creative expression" procedure help to balance a classroom in time. Many times of the day are still subject to that which the learning of facts in the art activities, the child finds his own way of gaining experience where as this is not possible when he gets lost in the sameness of the rest of the day. Creative art experiences are excellent ways of promoting the independence of each child.

The "creative expression" method of teaching art is the only method that can play a very large role in the creative and mental development of the child. Any other method of teaching art is an inferior method and usually one that does more harm than good to the child.

When the pupil is given the opportunity to choose his own subject matter and to work at his own speed, he begins to accept the responsibility for his own work.

It soon is anticipated that the aquifer, but it is not known exactly where the boundaries are. Tests, started out by the town of Edison in the past have indicated a very meagre supply of good water. If the hopes of future testing are confirmed the aquifer could be of tremendous importance to Edison and District in supplying a much supply of water.

Basic remedy

If people are hungry, all that is needed is a diet and a little more of the same. It is not as simple as it sounds. The basic remedy for these problems is to eat more of the same.

In a past security, it was not all of life, but as a personal matter, it is a matter of life. The basic remedy for these problems is to eat more of the same.

There is a long pause and finally the voice of the speaker is heard. "I'm parked on the corner, I was wondering where the first bus was."

A LOUISA LUCK IN EDSON. Mrs. Luck will be on her way to the Kin in the future. The Kin was a huge success, and the Kin was a huge success.

Trophy competitions have audience appeal

Instead of a summer performance of the Edson Kin, the trophy competitions were held on Saturday afternoon. While not drawing the same crowd as the annual fair, the trophy competitions were still a very good musical and dramatic display for those who were to attend.

Tri-Service meetings every other week

Increase crop profits much as $20 per acre

Recent government-controlled tests show that use of fertilizers can increase net profit $10-$20 per acre.

"I don't want to sound like I'm forced to sell, and I don't want to sound like I'm a pushover," says the 36-year-old man, without giving up a minute of his time. "When the right business comes by, I'll take it. I'll let me be the dealer."

The problem? You can't be a dealer without the right product, the right price. And a strong, well-known brand name.

That's why Farm Service
 Co. is the only company in the United States that can give you the following:

In addition to a full range of farm supply and the broadest range of farm equipment, we offer:

- Specialized products—
- Specialized services—
- Specialized financing—
- Specialized delivery and auto-

TOXIC CHEMICALS AND NATURE

Modern technology, provides us with many obvious benefits, that we tend to give an ideal of progress to the detriment of the environment. Only when, and often lately, by, as when pollution is evident, the reality of our progress is seen, and then we are forced to realize that we have not been able to do what we thought we could.

One of the new chemical pesticides is a new type of herbicide called the "wildfire" herbicide. It is used to kill weeds and grasses. The need is such that the Canadian Wildlife Federation and its member organizations are devoting their 1968 National Wildlife Week program during the week of April 7 to 13, to a review of the problem of toxic chemicals in the form of insecticides, fungicides, herbicides and herbicides, being released into the environment in increasing quantities.

It is not really a new problem, as chemical poisons have been used to protect crops for at least 100 years, but it is one that has grown to serious proportions in relatively recent times, since DDT was first produced in commercial quantities during World War II. Development of the organochlorines, of which DDT is still the most commonly used, have been followed by use of a number of the organophosphates and, more recently, the carbamates. The problem has grown in size and complexity. Sales of pesticides by Canadian registrars have increased from $25,000,000 in 1956 to $50,000,000 in 1966. There are now some 400 different active ingredient chemicals used in some 3,000 formulations registered for sale in Canada. Others, not registered in Canada, may be imported for use but not for resale.

Pesticides are obviously here to stay. The question is whether we will learn to use them with sufficient wisdom and forbearance to continue to profit from them without doing serious damage to the delicate fabric of the web of life. We humans, too, are part of that web.

And we do profit from the use of pesticides, through an abundance of agricultural products of high quality produced at reasonable cost, through forests saved from destruction by insect pests, and through millions of lives being saved, in some parts of the world, by control of insect-borne diseases. In these respects, pesticides have certainly been a boon to mankind.

Yet, as they used in Canada and in many other countries, pesticides are also a bane. Pesticides have a way of affecting places and species which were not the target of the original application. Some pesticides have a very broad range of toxicity, from mosquitoes to man, and rightfully deserve the name "toxic". Some "selective" pesticides, referred to as "persistent", remain toxic for months or years following application. Use of these persistent, broad-spectrum pesticides means nothing less than loss of control of their effect. One would wonder why they are still permitted to be used in massive quantities.

As with other forms of pollution which detract from the quality of our lives or threaten our health, solving the pesticide problem is largely a matter of economics and public policy. Are we sufficiently concerned about the quality of our environment to pay the cost of keeping it free of this destructive form of contamination?

Wildlife... and the History of Canada

The Bureau of Advertisers conducted a new survey in four cities two days after a newspaper supplement was distributed announcing a new car model. The question asked was, "Seen or heard an ad for the new 1968 model cars?"

On those who saw the motor car company's sponsored TV shows and also read the paper with the 38 per cent spontaneous mentions mentioned the advertisement. They also read the paper with the 38 per cent spontaneous mentions mentioned the advertisement. They also read the paper with the 38 per cent spontaneous mentions mentioned the advertisement.

However, when one of both TV shows were seen, but not the newspaper carrying the advertisement, only 13 per cent could identify the car not made of automobiles.

These results also confirmed the motor car company's own survey. They found that 51 per cent of the people remembered the newspaper advertisement, 60 per cent saw it on hand and 11 per cent intended to use it for future reference.

Once again the power of newspaper advertisement was proven. Yet, cannot find a more convenient way to send your message to your potential customers where it may be read at leisure, just down picked up again, saved and referred to.

Nurses Scholarship for Donna Lee Caswell

Mrs. Max announced the members of the Society of Friends of the Red Cross Blood Donor Club, on April 21st.

April being Cancer Month the members viewed the film "Cancer by the Lion's Paw." The picture is to be a very informative film regarding the part smoking plays in causing lung cancer.

The coffee drama was sung by Mrs. Aschenmeyer.

Following the meeting lunch was served by Mrs. Larson.

FOR GENERATIONS of families nearby, when Mrs. J. Edson of Vancouver visited in Edson, she came home from a visit as Edson's family. Mrs. Edson made the special drive, with her youngest grandchild, little Mrs. Edson's son, to visit her. The last great drive in her life's journey, Mrs. Edson is being home for her grandchildren. Mrs. Edson and her husband, Mr. Edson, have been in Edson since March 1967.

EMPLOYMENT NOT

At this time of year there is an increase in unemployment due to leaving the school conditions and road bans. This leaves a number of people for work to do those leaving in the morning and a few up jobs.

It is a good idea to get the help of a professional, says the Small Business Administration's Entrepreneur Center, while help is still available. This will help alleviate non-employment and get the job done.

Homesteading

BY HELEN M. H.

There are many ways to homestead. Some people buy a small piece of land and build a house. Others buy a house and build a garden. Still others buy a house and build a business. The possibilities are endless. The first step is to find a piece of land. This can be done by looking in the Yellow Pages under "Real Estate" or by contacting a local real estate agent. Once you have found a piece of land, the next step is to build a house. This can be done by hiring a contractor or by building it yourself. The final step is to build a business. This can be done by starting a small business or by investing in a larger one. Homesteading is a great way to live. It allows you to control your own destiny and to live in harmony with nature.

WE HAD A LOOK the other day at the new Plymouth we have our money on when we took a pictorial record of Kinsmen Ray Bussert handing over the cash for it to Al Mcgregor of Central Motors. The car will be drawn for cash on May 31 st, along with nine other valuable prizes, when the Kinsmen hold their Big Bonanza Raffle and Awards Night. Bill Pilling was the latest person to get back the prize of his ticket, when his name was drawn last Saturday evening at the FIVE stumps.

To nominate Doug Caston Wednesday

Following a get together by interested voters, Doug Caston is running for election. This week it was decided to call a formal nomination meeting for the middle of next week. It is held in the Edson Union Hotel next Wednesday, May 10, at 8 p.m. it is hoped to have representatives from as much of the constituency as possible. At present a group among themselves, the Edson Conservative Committee was formed to promote the election of Doug Caston, a Conservative candidate. The total committee is composed of people of all parties interested in having a local conservative thinking Member of Parliament represent the constituency. Especially active on the committee are Progressive Conservative and Social Credit supporters of previous years, but former Liberals and NDP are offering support as well.

THE ACTION GROUP

The regular monthly dinner meeting of the Edson Action Group, a committee, will take place on May 23 at 7:30 p.m. at the Edson Community Centre.

Present members are urged to attend the meeting and all former members of the committee are urged to join the group and take a place in this organization which works for the good of the town and district.

The Committee can and should be the central organization working for the good of the town and the whole district. It can only do so by a strong and active membership of business, industrial and farm personnel.

Some of the projects being carried out at present by the Committee in the district has been organized through a series of meetings between the committee representatives, H. S. Edwards, and the District Agricultural at Edson and Vancouver and aims to be put into practice the project to establish a meeting house at Edson with premises available for use by representatives of the community and local improvement districts. Edson Town Council and the Westwood Valley Council meetings have been held in connection with an effort to promote greater unity between the two communities.

The Chapter of Commerce is working closely with ARVIA, and has a liaison officer representing with ARVIA. Furthermore, they have also asked the local branch of the I. C. to appoint a representative and this representative has been attending meetings. This will help to build a stronger bond between rural and urban areas. Town and country are becoming more than ever dependent on each other and it is urgent that the Chapter can work for the good of the whole area through both urban and rural members.

The Chapter of Commerce is one of the most important organizations in the building of a progressive town and district. It is made up of men and women who know from a local level what is needed to make their area progressive and whose aim is to work toward that end.

Remains an active member in the Edson Chapter of Commerce and does your part to keep Edson and District moving.

A memorial service was held at Victoria, B.C., on Sunday, May 29, for the late Douglas M. Cassidy.

Large audience honors graduating class

Some 500 people were in attendance at the High School Auditorium on Friday night last to honor another large graduating class of high school students. Principal M. D. Mundy acted in master of ceremonies.

John Cassidy, son of Douglas M. Cassidy, was the first speaker. He presented a paper on the definition of a graduate. He pointed out that the Department of Education must be a high school diploma is a paper who at the end of Grade VII has achieved 100 per cent in every compulsory course. He then stated the principal gave it to his son, and that all pupils who succeed in completing a high school diploma are truly graduates.

Six candidates for Rocky Mountain

Official nominations closed at 7 o'clock on Friday afternoon, May 27. The Reform Party's Nels Robertson of Jasper announced that six candidates had filed papers before the deadline for the June 25th election.

In the running are two Conservatives, three Liberals, and one N.P.

Liberal applicants on the list will be: J. J. C. M.P. for Jasper, Doug Fagan running as a Conservative. Hugh Gaudy of Banff running as a Progressive Conservative. Neale Hurrey of Blue River running N.P. C. H. Maltby of Banff running as Independent Liberal. John W. McLeod of Mountaineer running as Independent Liberal. Allen B. Sulatsky of Whitecourt who ran Liberal candidate in the Jasper election last November.

Nominations in Rocky Mountain are held two weeks earlier than most of Canada, as the constituency is claimed as more difficult along with the big northern ridings.

Doug Fagan describes himself as the "real" Conservative. He says he is more independent than Liberal and Allen Sulatsky, and Hugh Gaudy are the "official" candidates of their parties.

HEART SURGERY NO LONGER

ONLY FOR CHILDREN

The Canadian Medical Association has announced that heart surgery is no longer only for children.

At first it was used for the abnormality of heart in some children, such as the so-called "blue babies". Later the technique moved to repairing large congenital defects or defects in the wall between the chambers of the heart. The surgery has been the backbone of the heart have often been reported when they have been found to be defective in the wall of the heart. The type of surgery often has been done in which the heart is cut open to correct the defect. In the case of children, the heart is often closed soon after it is born.

Now heart surgeons are doing young adults of repairing the abnormality of the heart. The surgery is now done in the hospital and an artificial heart may be used in a really

Abstract The effect of a 10% increase in the price of a good on the demand for a complementary good is examined. The demand for the complementary good is assumed to be a constant elasticity function of the price of the complementary good and the price of the good. The effect of a 10% increase in the price of the good on the demand for the complementary good is found to be a function of the elasticity of the demand for the complementary good with respect to the price of the complementary good and the price of the good. ## Lightning strikes cause problems

Edson, Alberta, Jan. 11.—(Leader Staff Report)—A series of lightning strikes on Sunday, Jan. 8, caused considerable damage to the St. Mary's Hospital. The lightning struck the hospital building, the St. Mary's School, and the St. Mary's Church. The damage to the hospital building was particularly severe, with the roof and walls being damaged. The St. Mary's School and the St. Mary's Church also sustained damage to their roofs. The lightning strikes caused considerable problems for the hospital, as the damage to the building made it difficult to use. The hospital is now working to repair the damage and is expected to be back in operation by next week.

THE ONLY PIPE ORGAN west of Edmonton (in Alberta) is this one, where a congregation wants to share the beautiful sound of their new organ and let the public in too.

Sacred Heart Church installs pipe organ

Members of the Sacred Heart Parish are proud to announce the installation of their new pipe organ. The organ, which was purchased through a series of fundraising efforts, is a beautiful instrument that will enhance the church's worship services.

The organ is a four-manual instrument, featuring a variety of stops and a large console. It was installed in the church's sanctuary, where it will be used for a variety of purposes, including weddings, funerals, and regular services.

The church's members are grateful for the support of the community, which has helped make this project a reality. They hope that the organ will bring joy and inspiration to all who hear it.

Rodeo week
Starts hours

Pony chariots to be rodeo feature

For the first time in the history of the rodeo, pony chariots will be featured this year with the return of the rodeo. There will be 20 chariots, and adding to the action this year will be the addition of 12 chuckwagons. The ponies are spirited riders of their big brothers and seem to move even faster and be even faster.

The rodeo will be held at the rodeo arena, and the first round will be held on Friday night.

A ROUND OF APPRAISE was given Bill Sutter as he turned over the shovelful of earth to officially mark construction of the new St. John's Hospital last Thursday afternoon. Looking on are master of ceremonies Walter Powler, Councillor Jim Griffiths, Mr. Sutter, Rev. Fr. George Gunn and Councillor John Kehrer.

FUA Locals to hold bench show Aug. 24

The Farmers Union of Alberta district Locals granted approval to the Town Council, at their meeting on July 16, to hold their annual bench show in the arena on August 24th. The approval was given in answer to a request by Peter Aschbacher, FUA representative on the Edmonton Chamber of Commerce. The Edmonton Chamber of Commerce will undertake to pay the rental fee.

Following this decision the matter of the bench show at the arena and the use of the premises for serving purposes was fully discussed by the Town Council. The Farmers Union representative was asked to study the matter of the bench show for one year and make recommendations to the Town Council at its next meeting.

Deputy Mayor Strang was in the chair, and the meeting was held at 7:30 p.m. in the Town Council Chamber.

Local family to be on TV

This doesn't seem to be a very unusual thing for a family to do, but the family of the late Fred Hunter will be on television this Friday, July 26, at 7 p.m. to watch the John Hunter family star in the weekly feature "The Year in the Life".

The program was taped a few months ago and the family have been patiently waiting for it to be shown.

WHAT ABOUT THE LITTLE GUYS?

Active or lack of action by the two major groups directly affects people in this town as last few days.

We don't think there are too many hard heads who wouldn't feel that it is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

The past few weeks have seen the government and the two groups working out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

There seems to be a general feeling of optimism among the two groups. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

PROVINCIAL TOO

The announcement that the provincial government had extended the agreement with the two groups is a welcome one. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

It is the purpose of the editorial government announcement that the two groups are working out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

Does this mean that if and when the Whitecourt pulp mill gets into production there will be no need for working operations in the town? It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

When the pulp mill was started the people in the town were told that the mill would be a blessing. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

There is all right if people want to work for big money but not everybody does. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

When we were Provincial Minister I think we had better have a look at the town. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

The only reason some people are jumping to conclusions, running down friends, kidnapping reputations and making the town a laughing stock is because of the two groups. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

Printed and Published by the Edmonton Journal. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

Don't forget, the Edmonton Journal is the only paper in the town. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

Remember Adams and Canadian Weekly. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future. It is now or never for the two groups to work out a plan for the future.

Village 1st Rodeo Time
Edison residents are getting that feeling of excitement that always hits about this time of year when Rodno Meek arrives again. The spirit may be slow in coming, but so far every rodeo has turned out to be a highlight of the year, and even though most of us only get doped up to any extent for one week, there is a feeling of pride and an involuntary swelling of the chest when we hear visitors and tourists talking about how well the town looks or how exciting over some event taking place.

These businesses along the Main Street who have not already done so are urged to decorate in a Western theme to get into the spirit of things.

It is hoped that individuals will also dig the Western costume out of moth balls and join the fun. We may not all be built like the models in the GNC advertisements, but next week next year we will be the order of the day.

There is going to be noise and color galore all week. The sound of the guns of Nonah's Razors, (who, it is rumored, are going to stage some daring break-ins) the sound of Western music every evening as free street dances call young and old to join the fun the sound and color of the parades on Friday and Saturday as spectators line the parade route (let's have some cheering this year and show our appreciation) the hum of activity at the rodeo breakfasts on Friday and Saturday morning and the delicious smell of pancakes and coffee.

Let's make it a big week. It is a rather thankless job organizing a show like this when many people sit in their hands and leave the work to a few. The rodeo benefits the whole town as well as providing a week of entertainment that is hard to beat.

Let's all do our part by entering into the spirit of rodeo week.

Many, Reserve Champion; Elzard Giesbrecht, 1st; Russell Giesbrecht, 4th and 5th place; Brenda Valley, 5th place and Best Grooming, Dan Giesbrecht also won the Stall competition.

Government And Industry Combine In Training Program

[illegible]

The Alberta Highway Department provided the course site in the Department's Chertsey Road Pit area near Edmonton. The Highway Department also contributed two motor graders, a 600-hp tractor, a generator for lighting, and pumps and a 20-hour watchman who lived at the site. Additional heavy-duty equipment for the course was made available on loan to various Alberta equipment dealers and distributors.

Under arrangement with the Department of Education and the desired furnishings required for training, the course provided food and a $1,000,000 initiative policy to cover all perils, with $250,000 ending in any case accident benefits had at their disposal 100 pieces of road building equipment valued at more than $1,000,000.

A team of seven Bowman-type instructors and a Chief Field Instructor were recruited by the Alberta Heavy Equipment Operators Training Agency. The Northern Alberta Institute of Technology provided ship and classroom lectures and further designed and conducted the theoretical and hands-on training. Classroom theory and ship instruction accounted for 50 per cent of the course content. The remainder of the course involved instruction at the port area work site.

The theory portion of the course included basic grading instructions, vehicle safety, logbook training, etc., computerization, insurance, job applications, clothing, work sheets, logs, repair request and 16 hours of first aid training leading to a St. John's Ambulance certificate. At the work site following a day's training an equipment inventory and an inventory of material in machine bay and service.

Investigation proceeded at the same rate as before. A 100-ton trailer loaded with laboratory and housekeeping stuff left the Alameda Heights Department of Landmarks characteristically equipped with various types of modernized and was also used at the work site.

Students who took the course ranged in age from 20 to 55 years and in education from grades 7 to 12. Some 90 per cent of the learners had no previous musical experience, and some had more than two years.

Depending on industries demanded for skilled honest, equipment operators, the Alberta Division of Vocational Education will again be supporting a number of new and even an expanded training program next spring.

Don and 143 Mct. Media and 18 members of the staff of Sumner & Co. Inc. May enjoyed an anniversary dinner at the Edison Motor Hotel last Thursday evening. They were celebrating ten years as business in Edison for Don and 144 is one of the most popular dining spots in town.

The McLaughlin's took over the banner on May 20, 1940. The celebration was delayed because they were not in town over the May 4th weekend this year to take time off.

Tri-Service says thank you

Sincere appreciation is due many hard working individuals behind the scenes who contributed to the success of this year's Rodeo.

Without your untiring efforts for which you asked no recognition, this event would not have been possible.

Congratulations to a well run and enjoyable two day Rodeo. Edson now looks forward to the 1969 Rodeo.

FUA Bench Show this Saturday

This Saturday will see an array of hand-painted flower garden and field crop samples, dairy products and home-made preserves displayed on the Ben FUA bench in the town of Edson.

North Road accident claims life

A head-on collision last Thursday evening on the North Road south of the city of Edson resulted in the death of a 45-year-old man.

Mr. Blument, an employee of a local business, was driving a 1965 Ford Mustang when he collided with a 1964 Chevrolet driven by a 45-year-old man. The collision occurred on the North Road, south of the city of Edson, at the intersection of the road and the railway tracks.

The driver of the Chevrolet, Mr. Blument, was killed instantly. The driver of the Mustang, Mr. Blument, was seriously injured and is in a critical condition at the hospital.

The accident occurred at approximately 7:30 p.m. on Thursday evening. The cause of the accident is still under investigation.

Transport Dept. officials inspect Edson airstrip

A climax in local airstrip construction was reached last Thursday when Department of Transport personnel gave the strip an official inspection.

The inspection was conducted by a team of officials from the Department of Transport, including the Chief Engineer, the Chief Inspector, and the Chief Surveyor. They were accompanied by local officials and members of the Town Council.

The inspection was a thorough one, with the officials examining every aspect of the airstrip, from the runway to the taxiway and the parking area. They also inspected the surrounding area for any potential hazards.

The officials were impressed with the quality of the work done on the airstrip and gave it a high rating. They also gave some suggestions for improvements.

The inspection was a significant milestone in the development of the airstrip, which is expected to be completed by the end of the year.

The airstrip is a major project for the town of Edson and is expected to greatly improve local transportation.

The town of Edson is proud to have such a high-quality airstrip and is looking forward to the day when it is fully operational.

The inspection was a very successful one and the officials were very pleased with the results.

Nudeck Hoppings

By NED S. HOPKINS

It was a hot day in the city of Edson, Alberta, when the annual Nudeck Hoppings took place. The event, which is held every year, is a celebration of the city's history and its famous Nudeck River. The hoppers, who are the city's most famous residents, were seen in their element as they competed for the title of "Nudeck Hopper of the Year". The winners of the competition were announced at the end of the day, and the winners were rewarded with a trophy and a certificate. The Nudeck Hoppers are a group of people who live in the city of Edson and who are known for their love of the river. They are a close-knit group and they are always ready to help each other. The Nudeck Hoppers are a source of pride for the city of Edson and they are a part of the city's heritage.

Pulp mill takes up option on reserve area

The Honorable A.J. Hanks, Minister of Lands and Forests on behalf of the Government, Atlanta, and Mr. L.S. Sullivan, Vice President and General Manager of the North Western Pulp & Paper Co., stated that a pulp mill will be constructed here prior to the above date.

The company will spend over fifty million dollars in the construction of the proposed mill.

Homesteading

North of Pines
BY HENRY H. HARRIS

There had been a long time in the history of the world when the first man had a homestead. It was a small plot of land, a few acres, and he lived there with his family. He worked the land, and he grew food for himself and his family. He was a homesteader.

These aren't labels. They're awards.

Brewmaster Steinke won't award the coveted Meisner label to any bottle until he's sure it's earned it. And he should know: he's the brilliant Bavarian who developed a better way to brew beer. Here's North America's first complete Steinke's Brewhouse every bottle is naturally brewed to consistently great flavor.

(Only when the beer is just as it should be, Brewmaster Steinke awards his and it's approval. The Meisner label.)

The average cost of having one party billed would be about $100. Steinke's Brewhouse is a community wine cellar for an individual for about $100.

The Thuridiles swimming in the water, a team of lampreys feed from the Atherina fish. After a few hours, the fish die and the lampreys feed on the dead fish. The lampreys then feed on the dead fish and the dead fish are eaten by the lampreys.

Law 61 instructs people not asked to cooperate with the inspection and in an effort to help cut down on the problem says by law that takes place in the process.

Chevrolet introduces 1969.

Caprice.
Watch this,
you other 60's.

Should we have made the '68 Caprice shorter? Or showed it with flaky chrome? Should we have dropped the bigger new 327 cu. in. standard V-8 engine, the added interior elegance and the improved drive? Ventilation System? Horse power? Think us over, people, think us over, people.

Corvair.
Who needs to say 'uncommon' or 'new' or 'better'?

Just look how the '68 Corvair hangs together. Not a line that isn't leaning into the wind. We've improved the interior. We've improved the ride. And made the drive ventilation system even better. No wonder the other questioners are grabbing their jaws.

If somebody else made a car like this '68 Corvair, we'd be surprised.

Think of the '68 Corvair as 'uncommon' Chevrolet. It's got big Chevrolet features, but a naturally better personality all its own. And old gas could be the other mid-size cars any made.

1969 Chevy Nova with Torque Drive.

The '68 Chevy Nova isn't very little to get into. Very little to run. And with low cost Torque Drive transmission you can order for any 6-cylinder model. It's the shortest way yet to get out of a chick.

Putting you first, keeps us first.

A well attended meeting on the Town Hall on Monday evening heard the three candidates for the municipal and the three candidates for the three council seats at next Wednesday's election where they laid the Town's plans, and their particular views on how it should be done.

Petition asks Town build curling rink

A petition, signed by 449 residents and/or ratepayers of the Town, accompanied by a supporting document and survey from School Students in the name pattern was presented to the last meeting of Council on October 1st.

The petition, supported by Mayor C. Smith and 17 Trustees, asked that Council undertake the construction of a curling rink in addition to the existing curling rink. It was also requested that the Town build a curling rink in the proposed site, and that the rink be built in a location which would be convenient to the residents of the Town. The petition also requested that the Town build a curling rink in the proposed site, and that the rink be built in a location which would be convenient to the residents of the Town.

Unlikely death shocks district

The unexpected death of Henry W. Smith, an Edson resident, shocked the district. Smith was a well known resident of the district and his death was a great loss to the community.

"Well, we made it" says Jim Jensen as he and Al Worthing look over the log book with the results of the election. The election was held on Wednesday, October 11th, and the results were as follows:

Advance and Wednesday polling times

Polling times for the Edson Town election on Wednesday, Oct. 11 are from ten o'clock in the morning until eight o'clock in the evening in the Edson Civic Building Council Chamber.

An advance poll on Thursday and Friday of this week from two to five in the afternoon will accommodate those voters who are unable to go out and vote Wednesday.

The following article, which the Florida American must publish since the Times will print the item, is from a letter of the late Frank Williams, a "pale-o-yellow" who was the only blacky invited to the "Famous Five" luncheon at the Waldorf-Astoria last week. Williams was going to make the point that he had to be invited, but he decided not to do so.

During the depression period of the 1930's, at the start of an African high school, I wrote him this poem, I think, in the year 1935. It is now, incidentally, interpreted to be the nature of his race but leaving a room.

If I had difficulty in going along, and I was not, I am sure, I would have been the only one to see things, and I would have been the only one to see things.

District farmer loses cow to would-be hunter

He took to hand a specimen that he dropped a letter he was going to paint his coat and other livestock with signs to insure it will not shoot him. He said since the last week or two.

Mr. J. Annie Brown, who lives about a mile beyond the lake, heard a shot come off, but thought nothing of it. Later the head a moment he arrived a lot having as though it had lost a mouth. On investigation the head was lying in the edge of a field about a hundred yards from the road. It had been there for a short time.

Four days later the head was to be found in a few minutes and does not last for the house when the water out the way.

Buy into Canada.

There are probably as many good reasons for buying Canada Savings Bonds as there are for buying U.S. Treasury bonds. The former are insured by the insurer, place and conditions, you have for free, and you can cash them in at any time, without charge, all or in part, to play a part in building the future of your country. The simple, safe, profitable way to help build the future of your country is to buy Canada Savings Bonds.

They offer an excellent option. The average yield is currently 6.75%, a very attractive rate. For one-year bonds, the yield is 6.50%, and for two-year bonds, the yield is 7.00%. For each of the last 10 years, the average yield has been 6.50% or better. And you can cash them in as they become due. Better still, if you cash them in before they are due, you will receive interest on your interest. Take full advantage of this option and, when your bonds mature, your total interest earnings plus your original investment will amount to $720 for each $1,000 invested.

They are available to everyone. Canada Savings Bonds are available to anyone who is a Canadian citizen or resident who is 18 years of age or older. For each one or more Canada Savings Bonds you wish, hand in your identification, choose your maturity date, and you are done.

They are interest free. You can cash them any time, without charge. You can let them fall face value, any time you wish.

Investments are flexible. Some bonds, made available to you by the Government of Canada, are for one, two, three, five, or 10 years. You can buy them in any amount, from $10 to $10,000.

Canada Savings Bonds. It's possible.

New Redox Assoc?

There was a good reason for the final meeting of the Tin-Silver-Silver-Arsenic Association in 1984. A meeting of this sort was being held for the first time since the group was dissolved.

Following adjustment of the Tin-Silver-Silver-Arsenic Association's membership, a second informal meeting was called to discuss the formation of a new redox-association. The leaders of the meeting were one of the speakers that was an expert in the field of redox and was on the list of speakers for the meeting. It was part of the meeting in 1984.

After a number of years, the Tin-Silver-Silver-Arsenic Association was reformed. It was a meeting of this sort was being held for the first time since the group was dissolved.

Postscripts from Peers

BY JIMMY HARRIS

It is a common sight to see a group of people standing in a line, waiting for their turn to be interviewed by a panel of judges. This is the case at the annual "Postscripts from Peers" competition, which is held at the University of Toronto. The competition is open to all students of the university, and is a chance for them to express their views on current events and issues. The judges are made up of fellow students, and the winning entries are published in a book. This year's competition was held in the fall, and the winning entries were published in a book titled "Postscripts from Peers 1968". The book is available for purchase at the university bookstore.

Not retirement but second cycle Premier tells meeting

"I haven't the faintest idea of retiring", Premier Ernest C. Manning told a gathering at Edson's Legion hall on Monday evening.

The banquet sponsored by the Edson branch of the United Farmers of Canada was a testimonial to the Premier's long and distinguished career in public life. The Premier, who is now 65, was the guest of honor at the banquet.

"The greatest thing about Alberta is its future", he said. "I don't think I have done enough to deserve the honor of being Premier. I am only a citizen of Alberta, and I am proud to be a citizen of this province."

He also mentioned the fact that he had been a member of the United Farmers of Canada for many years, and that he had been a member of the Edson branch for many years.

Care for Your Car

FALL 1968

Wed., Oct. 30, 1968, EDSCH LEADER-9

STUFFING A CAR as a money saving measure is an idea whose time has come. A difficult design such as this one will be a lot easier to handle, when the car is properly equipped and maintained and the driver has a knowledge of money saving techniques.

Make it tough for the car cannibal

High profits and low risk have made stuffing cars an increasingly popular occupation for the "Car Cannibals."

If the person can't see the value of a car, he can't see the value of a car. The car cannibal's main business is to buy cars and sell them for a profit.

To make it tough for the "Car Cannibals," the car cannibal must be able to see the value of a car.

1. Never leave keys in the car.

Sandwich Tern

With many water looking ahead to winter dry conditions, the water situation again is a prime topic of conversation among drivers in all parts of the province.

Statistical trends were a point of controversy to many users of Cargill and the other major waterways. A survey of the use of the harbours have changed their line of thinking during the past 10 months. Statistics for the use of various waterways for moving grain and petroleum cargoes have long recognized the value of the improved canal on the eastern shore of Lake Erie. In the past more of these tonnage have been carried by rail and many will agree that there was enough to satisfy the needs of the port, and undoubtedly these goods were carried by rail.

However, the canal has been improved and will carry the same for all

The use of checked tires requires a little extra care by the driver, but this can be worth it better steering and stopping performance during winter months. Intertek says that, for those for the second year, should take extra care to insure that the tires are installed on the proper axle and to monitor the wear since at least determining factor on the way of speech. One hour representative states that the steel production from the country actually declines to about 12,000 million at a speed of 70 million per hour compared to 60 million per hour.

Shouldn't that actually make them on the government they do regular circuit and the steel may lead to steel consumption on a day-to-day basis. It is important to be a matter of industrial and domestic use which should be thought on carefully. However many materials in this part of the country feel that they are more than enough the steel industry. Another day, the steel industry is not able to supply to the steel industry but it is important when steel is not available and production facilities are not.

An untuned car is "won't start" trouble.

You're all wet and you're blaming your battery. Yet—the real cause of your "won't start" trouble is just as likely to be worn spark plugs in an untuned engine.

Wet cold weather cuts your car battery's output so there's less voltage available for starting. And worn spark plugs can easily require twice the voltage of new plugs. Re-tune—you have a combination that can be too much for even a brand new battery.

In fact, an 80,000 car study covering all the United States and Canada showed the odds are three times greater that you'll have starting trouble if your spark plugs are worn.

To avoid starting trouble this fall and winter, get a Champion tune-up: a new set of Champion spark plugs plus any other basic tune-up items your car may need. Champion spark plugs meet or exceed warranty requirements of all vehicle and engine manufacturers.

North of Perry

I applied for a contract to cut lumber and trees in the fall of 1965. It was quite an investment I applied for three spots in which we were to log and plant back. However, this made the permits quite late so I took out two on one of the spots. It had one one of the others and cancelled the third. It was hard to get them his up and some of them I was able to hire were no good. They were from the job and you could not fire them without permission, and they sure knew how to put in time.

When I cleaned up the berth I started on I moved four miles to the other berth, but I could not start logging till the first of February. I had to build two miles of road, but even at that I managed to get out 200,000 feet of lumber in two months.

The following year the area was turned into green area and cutting was stopped so I lost the bark and the deposit as well.

I had quite a few trees felled so went in just before the frost was out of the ground and skidded and skimped the trees into one pile so I could haul the logs out by truck to a saw mill. I hauled the logs eight miles and had to hire a cat to fix up the road. This involved more expense so I did not make my salt at this job.

Those last logs were so loaded in 1967 and finished the logging on crown land. The green area stopped all this and the only thing that was left was if a person could buy timber rights on private land, and oil operators were gradually being squeezed out the same as any other business is today. I had not put a rope in in 1966 as things seemed

Citizenship Court on November 7th

A session of the Citizenship Court will be held in the Edson Court House on Thursday, November 7th. Some persons are scheduled to receive their citizenship certificates in the Courtroom at 10:00 a.m. beginning at 10:00 a.m. Judges Allan will see persons desiring to get their citizenship papers. The Judge's Assistant will add to the Presentation Ceremony by being in attendance with his Color Party, and a member of the RCMP will also be in attendance. A representative of the British & Foreign Bible Society will attend to present each new citizen with a Bible.

At the conclusion of proceedings those taking part in the ceremony will be guests of one of the local churches. A coffee will be served.

The general public is invited to attend.

Without a doubt, the very best way to get out of your garage is to keep it like a gift with fancy paper and bright ribbons and leave it on a path leading to the sea of a bus, in which some small will be in the top of the bus, in the top of the bus, in the top of the bus.

The first was found 1800 and came in its default 18 days. In both cases no earnings or employment were declared and it was brought to the media attention the more had been waiting during the period.

It's Happened
In line a 15-year-old Calgary boy, completing his paper route, escaped death from a highway crash when a light pole struck him. Although the boy was killed, the crash was not as serious as it seemed. The boy was not hurt and was not in the line of traffic. The crash was not as serious as it seemed.

Mr. Jack Hook is back in his role as president of an Edson District Rodeo & Exhibition Association. The new Association was formed at a meeting called last Wednesday for that purpose. Mr. Hook was elected to meet the new association through its charter year, as the former Tri-Service Rodeo Association was laid to rest.

The make-up of the new association differs from the old in that three vice presidents were also elected. The duties of each vice president will include being responsible to the president for a corporate made from among the Division of the Association, to some extent the various areas of rodeo production.

Other members of the executive include: 1st vice president, Al Taylor; 2nd vice president, Dick Topot; 3rd vice president, Ken Hartman; Recording Secretary, Carol Ann Fagan; Secretary, Jack Berthelme; Division of the Association are: Ray Bennett, Fred Kuchner, Ken Weaver, Al Macdonald, Jim Lawrence, Peter Chertoff, Jim Pender, Henry Grier, Dave McLean, Alan Martin, Peter Tomlin, Arlene Martin, Lloyd Bennett, Jim Jensen, Ernie Matheson.

A motion was also made at the meeting that the day and the president of the Chamber of Commerce be asked to be honorary Directors of the Association. With this word service elected, the move

Hunters shoot your cow?—what to do

Following the publishing of a letter to the editor in last week's Leader we have been given a procedure as outlined in the Alberta Game Act representing wildlife damage and negotiations.

The act sets out that a person whose livestock is shot by another person on land situated in a wildlife management unit may within three following its discovery report the death or injury to the nearest RCMP detachment.

The RCMP, the Act states, will provide an application form which must be completed to apply for compensation from the damage fund for the dead or injured livestock.

The procedure sounds simple, but our terms writer of last week didn't agree to that it all that simple.

AARN hear report on Coronary Care seminar

After Robert was guest speaker at the 10th annual meeting of the Alberta Association of Registered Nurses which was held at the St. James Health Unit, there were 16 members present.

After Robert had recently attended a two-day Coronary Care seminar held at the Royal Alexandra Hospital in Edmonton and brought back the latest information on the nursing care and treatment of coronary patients, the talk was being specifically related to the "Type and care" of the doctor doing the intensive care of these patients.

In summing up her talk, Robert said that the coronary care unit is a factor in a coronary care unit as well as in a coronary care unit.

She also advised these patients to quit smoking, drink alcohol, be very early in moderation and have regular follow-up care.

One of the objectives of the AARN is to elevate the standard of nursing practice and Robert's presentation has done much to help attain this goal.

The next meeting will be in moderation and have regular follow-up care.

to the crew from the Gideon family opposite whose farm home at Marlboro the crash occurred. Passengers and baggage were routed around the crash by bus and truck, while the wrecking crew from Jasper worked at the west side of the pileup and the huge hook from Edgewood went to work on the east end. Almost normal train service was resumed by Tuesday morning.

The board's regular meeting of the Board of Trustees, Edson School Division, discussed the various discrepancies in construction which have arisen since the school was occupied. The letter was instructed to inform the architect, by letter, of the discrepancies.

It was moved that the board call on the firm of Oettinger and Associates to prepare a report pending an investigation of the discrepancies reported.

And that the 15-minute session textbook rental charge to high school students for textbooks be dropped and the charge for the rental of a portable library be increased to a monthly fee of $100.00 per book.

Willmore Cadets weekend at Willmore Park

Cadet officers talk over the afternoon war games, a recent weekend camp out at Willmore Park. The boys had good weather for their two days out and seemed to enjoy themselves.

Parkland High sports report

Track Meet The Glace Valley team was to off to a great start this year. A contest was held Wednesday, Nov. 6 in which Parkland and Glace Valley competed.

16-17 to 18-9. Hinton was also defeated. In the games between Hinton and Parkland, Hinton came in second, Fraserburg third.

As a result of winning Hinton goes to Fort Saskatchewan for the North Central 141

LIGHTING HIS CAMPFIRE

Two weeks ago members of the Edson Cadets Camp held a weekend camp out and maintenance at Willmore Park. The cadets started out warm, but turned colder chilly for Sunday. However it didn't dampen the enthusiasm of the boys who camped out there was games with guns. Camp improvement by the cadets leaders kept the boys alert in their military training and all in all they are looking forward to another excursion of the same nature.

Elks Lodge donates $1000 for school band

BY GUNNIE GATZKE
With the coming of Mr. Dore to the staff of the Willmore School as music teacher, considerable interest has been shown in music and the possibility of organizing a school band.

A grant from the school Division has allowed the purchase of some musical instruments. In addition to this the Royal Purple Order at Willmore donated money for the purchase of the instruments. The Willmore Elks have made a donation of $1,000 which will purchase the necessary band instruments to start a Willmore School Band. This will be under the direction of Mr. Dore.

A special thank you to the organizations who donated money.

STUDENTS LAUNCH IN VOLLEYBALL TOURS

EXETER MAN MURDERED AT JAVITS MANUFACTURING
Mr. Jim Smith died as a result of a heart attack while working at Javits Manufacturing Co. in Exeter, N.B.

To make the situation even more unfortunate and painful, the victim was an amateur musician (violinist) and composed of brass pipes, feathers, and a headpiece, required time, patience and ingenuity to construct.

The best dress couple chosen were Miss Mepchuk and her sister, Miss Hovav. Their costumes were thoroughly constructed—pool tanner and women.

Cole's Orchestra played for the dance. Prizes were awarded to the best dressed ladies: Linda and Betty Rose, secretary of the band, and a variety of other prizes were awarded to the winners.

Y while to serve the east end of Edison and the west end of Stony Brook divisions.

About 150 Nihon and Wildwood residents felt the new school unnecessary and that existing schools at the two communities are adequate.

The Nelson and Widdowson firms asked for a plebiscite to determine if election of the district favor the by-law authorizing the Edison-Sunny high school district to borrow money.

Chief objection was the

DEATH WAS A PASSENGER
In this half-ton truck as Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ford of Canoe Creek came to town on Monday about 11:00 a.m., the truck crashed into the rear wheels of an east-bound pulp truck when both vehicles apparently were out of control on the McLean River bridge, six miles east on Highway 16. The bridge had become very slippery from new fallen snow. Mrs. Ford was pronounced dead on arrival at St. John's Hospital where the accident victims were rushed by ambulance. Mr. Ford was later transferred to the University Hospital by ambulance.

Confusion can be the only description for the situation on the question of the high school proposed on a co-operative basis somewhere in the east end of Edison School Division.

In the preparation of urban renewal schemes in the Town of Hinton and the adjacent community of Cochrane Park.

The interesting thing is that a town which is really only ten years old should have an urban renewal problem.

at providing a program of renewal action that can be implemented to improve substandard areas. It includes social, physical and economic studies necessary to support renewal projects and the programming for implementation.

The scheme for the Hinton area is a program that will take six months to complete.

Under the terms of the National Housing Act, the federal government may pay 50 per cent of the cost of preparing urban renewal schemes. The province and the municipalities share the remaining 50 per cent.

The areas involved in the preparation of the scheme in Histon are West-ham consisting of approximately 40 acres, and West Histon Industrial area of approximately 20 acres. Cecilia Park, covering 13 acres, is a retirement complex situated on the former overworked Durling in Improvement District No. 10.

Preparation of an urban extension scheme is also being carried out. The extension area will be prepared in two stages - an overall scheme of generalised proposals and phasing followed by a detailed first phase scheme.

The Cecilia Park scheme will be prepared in one stage in conjunction with that for Histon. The schemes will all be prepared by the firm of Makin, Holloway and Associates, Town and Regional Planning Consultants.

Jubilee proud of 13 Honor students

A very delightful event took place the evening of Nov. 14 at the Jubilee Jr. High School. It was the annual awards night at which a number of pupils were given recognition for various achievements as listed below.

The event opened with the Overture followed by the presentation of the award to the pupils of the year. The pupils were: Mr. T. Morgan, Mr. and Mrs. Thompson, Mr. Love to the Mrs. Rogers and Mr. Roy Johnson.

A display of gymnastics was given by Mrs. Roy's class featuring Helen Hamlin, Annette Gaudin, Ann Terpena, Bonnie Camp, Shirley Chapman and Crystal Chubb. These pupils were exceptionally good and are to be congratulated, along with their teacher, Mr. Landbeck's Class.

Club girls sang their rendition of "Shower," "Circles" and awards were given as follows:

Presentation of Grade 1 Outstanding Student Award and Certificate of Merit to Mr. Selby by Miss Deane, Marilyn Goss, Craig Goss, Bill Deane and Betty Rogers.

Presentation of Grade 2 Outstanding Student Award and Certificate of Merit to Mr. Goss by Miss Deane, Margaret Howarth, Carolyn Williams.

Tarbot and Joan Weber (Girls).

Presentation of Grade 3 Outstanding Student Award and Certificate of Merit to Mr. Morgan by Miss Deane, Marilyn Goss, Craig Goss, Bill Deane and Betty Rogers.

achievement was not the only reason that was deserving of recognition and was pleased that such recognition was being given in the school.

As an address was given by Mr. B. Chabert, Superintendent of Schools, he congratulated the pupils on their excellent achievement.

He stressed the story of a letter and a million miles they were discussing how happiness could be attained.

The former found his happiness by communicating with his environment, such as a tree which had been his life long companion.

In the soil where he worked every day, the blue of the sky and the white of the snow.

This means that to be happy, he must be content with what he has and be thankful for it.

He said that the happiness of the moment was the most important, made under the provision of the Municipal Yearling Award.

Province clears land clearing loans for Arda

Regulations governing the full guarantee of approved bank loans for land clearing and development in designated areas of the province have been adopted by the Alberta government, the Hon. R.A. Bane, Alberta Minister of Agriculture, announced recently at Edmonton.

Not only will the government guarantee the loans, said Bane, but regulations permit the government to pay interest on behalf of the farmer providing the loans do not exceed $5,000 and where the farmer makes a down payment of 20 per cent. Depending on the farmer's approved at regional and provincial levels the guarantee will be extended to the bank or treasury branch making the actual loan to the farmer.

The regulations specify what lands may be cleared and loans for agriculture and which areas must be left undeveloped for maximum conservation purposes. Multiple, integrated use is a basic principle for all north land development projects. Loans requiring power lines against wind and water erosion will not be developed. Other lands, having a high capability for wildlife propagation.

Council interested in Chevron housing and air service via Edson

Edson Town Council offered the town's co-operation to personnel from Chevron Standard in locating living accommodation for the company's plant staff at Council's regular meeting on Nov. 15.

Council also voted on request as supporting the proposed air service by Air Race Services Ltd., which it is hoped will include Ft. St. John, Peace River, Whitecourt, Hinton and Calgary.

Members of the business community have been in touch with officials connected with both these companies and all expressed delight at Edson's being considered for these growth developments.

Chapter 22
One morning the truck driver went up to the mill to load lumber and came back with a box of tools. He was carrying a box of tools. He was carrying a box of tools.

as the timber on the north watershed would take 25 years to make a 14 inch stump. I told them I should have a lot of timber in this country and it was long time for a sapling to grow to any size as the growing season was only three months long here on the north slope. The official started arguing with me so I went to a tree with my power saw, one that was 12 inches across. I cut the tree and counted the growth rings which showed the tree was 67 years old. Sometimes I get into some pretty hot arguments. One was about digging a well. We were about digging a well. We were about digging a well.

10-EDSON LEADER, Med. Nov. 27, 1968 Advocates Policy to reduce school cost

the Man Best Qualified for... ALBERTA'S LEADERSHIP!

THE MAN

At 64, Gerhart has served 18 years in the Alberta legislature, and received two important cabinet posts. His other achievements include two cabinet degrees, and a major contribution to both the business and community life of our Province.

THE OPPORTUNITY
"Encourage greater development of secondary industry and expand our trade potential with the Pacific Northwest and Pacific coast countries." People have recognized the importance of this Province to assist farmers affected by low grain prices. "Stimulate local credit conditions, associations and encourage greater participation by building costs and improve standards of schools." "Facilitate new for some the by improved legislative control and remove duplication of services. If further social expenditures required, there is no assurance proportionately against future revenues." Call conference at Alberta municipalities to review attendance to reduce home owner property tax cost.

"The Ontario experience could be very easily adapted to Alberta," said Gerhart, "at a time when the school program is now in its second year

Club News

EDSON-ALBERTA CLUB

Chairman Herman Kistner brought the meeting to order, after singing O Canada. David Reade and Wendy Hunter led the music in the singing of the 4-11 Fudge. The members then presented Bill Call by the bond of their club. On December 20th our meeting will be cut short because of a party and a dance for the 4-11 Club. Members of the club give introductory speeches for the speakers, Wendy Hunter introduced Herman Kistner who spoke on "The 4-11", then Fudge introduced Andy Murray who spoke on "The 4-11" and the 4-11. ## Haddock Happenings

By NELS F. JOHNSON

Our community was shocked by the tragic accident which took the life of Mrs. Ralph Ford, Mrs. Ford was for many years a neighbor to many of us. It is through the good work of the Red Cross.

Mrs. Mabel L. had the pleasure of a visit from her daughter, Mrs. John T. Ford, who is now in the 4-11 Club. The meeting was held in the 4-11 Club. The meeting was held in the 4-11 Club.

wholesale success

From Alberta Business Journal

Volume at 4 Way Wholesale Ltd. is now $5.5 million annually, and growing. The company has become an important contribution to the economy of the town of Edson.

From potato pulp to multi-million dollar business. That's the story of 4 Way Wholesale Ltd. of Edson. It was only 17 years ago that Adam Mearns and his sons, Herb and Jack, began growing potatoes on a small farm in the Edson area. They planted, cultivated and marketed their product, selling from crates to stores throughout the district and selling a few pounds at a time.

In 1951 they expanded to include all items necessary to supply a modern supermarket, and in 1960 they expanded their operations by acquiring Jasper Wholesalers.

Last year alone business volume totalled $1.5 million.

"The business volume in 1967 was $1,100,000 a year," says company vice-president Herb Mearns, "and we do that much in a week."

The company serves the area from Fox Creek in the north to Card Branch in the south, and as far as Delta, British Columbia, and west through Jasper to Medicine Hat.

A fleet of six big trucks supplies stores throughout the area. Some 27,000 square feet of warehouse in Edson and a smaller warehouse in Jasper. A major expansion, already started, will enlarge the Edson warehouse another 14,000 square feet.

The company has also launched an affiliated line of food stores under the name, Save-Rite Foods. Approximately 40 people are on the 4 Way payroll, with 15 in Edson and 11 working in Jasper.

"We've just been growing with the town," Herb Mearns, "and it has been a healthy growth," he adds by way of understatement.

He has great faith in the future prospects for the area and also has faith in the growth of 4 Way Wholesale.

"Our motto is growing bigger by serving better," he says, adding that part of the motto includes serving the business office at 4 Way.

Camp Workshop proves worthwhile

The three day Camp Management Workshop held in Edson last week proved to be a most worthwhile experience for all who took part. The workshop was held in Pleasant Campus High School, from 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m., and on Monday from 9:00 a.m. until 10:00 p.m., and on Tuesday from 9:00 a.m. until 10:00 p.m.

Mr. Jack Macgregor, District Youth Representative, was sponsored by the recreation branch of the Department of Youth, Instruction and Leisure from Edmonton and Terry Whitley from Hinton.

Local planning committee for the workshop included: Mrs. Allen Cavell, Mrs. A. L. Loefer, Ted Yessman, Dennis Scott, Martin Collins, John Heston, Archie Miller and Barry Fort.

Participants arrived Friday evening from as far away as Ft. Saskatchewan, Ban Arson, Lethbridge, Peace River, and other areas.

workshop can also be applied to individual or family camping, so that more camps are particularly, are able to get more enjoyment from this type of recreation.

Participatory plans were made to hold a camp week and something in the spirit so that practical use could be made of what had been learned at the recent workshop.

This session was a follow-up to the Leadership Workshop held last year and many participants were back for the second time. Young people were helped to build teams and Mr. Macgregor expressed his satisfaction in the co-operation of local residents who helped in this way to make the workshop a success.

Another group of ladies who contributed to a large measure to the success of the workshop was the United Church Women, besides holding their annual Christmas bazaar, the day of which had been set for the same time as the workshop. They provided food for coffee breaks, lunch and the three-day evening dinner. This was all provided at the ## fire damages farm home

Mr. A. J. Bergeson sustained heavy losses when his home, about 10:30 p.m., on November 15, after an absence of 14 hours, to find a trickle of smoke coming from a bedroom window.

He opened the door to a house filled with smoking smoke. There were flames as high as five feet, but with a draft of fresh air they subsided along the walls.

As soon as the door was shut they extinguished themselves.

It was two hours after the alarm had been sounded by the fire department truck arrived, but they soon had it out. In the meantime Mr. Bergeson had entered his home.

Some different times in an effort to shut off the electrical circuit.

It was out in no time after the flames started on the scene.

As it was the worst fire he has made it quite feasible again. Part of the floor will have to be replaced in the hall.

There was damage to the paint and window to make it look like home again.

The strong smoke odor will last a long time, but Mr. Bergeson feels it will disappear in time.

Peers curlers looking for busy season

The Peers Curling Club have been busy with more work on their community Curling Rink. They are pretty good at the service.

Additional tributes

The following tributes to the Canadian Curling Rink have been received in memory of Mr. Van Koughen from Mr. Bergeson, Martin and Paul Lynde.

built the house himself and did a good job. He was told later that had the house been so well constructed and so air tight it would have gone up in flames before anything could have been done about it.

As it was the worst fire he has made it quite feasible again. Part of the floor will have to be replaced in the hall.

of the next year of operation and hope that residents of the surrounding districts will include curling in their entertainment against this winter.

Skips should register their clubs with Tom Wells, as soon as possible so that the season's schedule can be made up. Skips will then be notified when ice will be available so they can plan their time.

Local Club members didn't stop work just because they had built the rink last year. This year they stand up the rink and find it more comfortable for spectators.

They are also taking up a coffee counter which they hope will help to cover expenses for the operation of the rink this winter.

If you are in Peers and looking for a place to have a cup of coffee and a sandwich, just drop around to the Curling Rink coffee bar.

By the way, Liam Frost and his crew are making a special invitation to non-members 18 years of age or over to come along and enjoy an evening of curling with your neighbors.

Plan to give Christmas gift plants

Although many flowering plants received at Christmas time turn out to be little more than long-lasting cut flowers, their lives can often be prolonged by exercising a certain amount of control over soil temperature, light and humidity.

The reason people have difficulty in keeping their gift plants healthy is that these plants are adapted to greenhouse conditions which cannot be duplicated in the home.

A day temperature of between 70 and 75 degrees F. is suitable for a wide range of house plants. The night temperature should be 10 to 15 degrees cooler.

Very few plants will thrive if given to a shady location or near a radiator or hot air coil.

Flowering plants should be given to the gift recipient in a gift plant box, and should be placed in a south window, or dark corner is unsuitable.

At the bottom of the pot, make sure the soil is watered, but a lot of water coming out of the hole means that the plant has been over-watered.

Following are some specific recommendations for the care of some popular Christmas plants.

RYAN THURGOOD—Keep these plants at a temperature of between 60 and 70 degrees and water them frequently. Chrysanthemums like full light.

CYCLOPS—The flowers on these plants will last approximately two weeks if the temperature is kept about 70 degrees. If it were possible to keep them at a temperature of between 60 and 65 degrees they would last much longer. In casual when watering cyclamen, make sure the water does not run down the sides of the pot.

The best test for watering plants is to give it to them when they need it. A plant needs water when the soil has dried out to the point where it crumbles in the hand. The soil should be saturated each time the plant is watered.

A waterlogged ball of soil will do more harm than good. Make water coming through the drainage hole.

WATER-BAY TO SAVE TREE

Buy a new one. Your eye will tell you if a tree has started to turn brown. Even if it is very green, it may be the tree on the ground.

When you get the tree, check it for the water. Then, remove the water with a wet cloth.

At least six inches above the old cut, the water and the tree in the water. The tree will be in the water. After a week, it will be in the water. It will be in the water. It will be in the water.

Drule 4H on course at Edson

ET NANA VRIEN
The meeting of President 4H was in the small procedure with most members present and guests. The project of mem-bering the game yard was dropped and all attention will be concentrated on the arena, painting the arena, building a parking area, wash house, and fixing the club house. Members who don't have a vote will not be allowed a vote. We received a grant from the Government of the Province of Alberta for $7,400 to be used for for $34 to be used for horses, cattle or sheep. Dwayne Carter, Sher-ry Cook, Nelson Vanden and Nona Vanden volunteered to go to Edson for a training program on November 11, 1960. Public speaking, reporting, etc., are on the agenda. We are sponsoring a dance on December 1st and are hoping for a good turnout.

Our year's agenda will be as follows:

Nursing orderly Edson Ski News

A record 27 students are enrolled in the current training course at the Alberta Nursing Institute School, 1500-107 Street, Edmonton.

Should the entire class graduate, the number of trained nursing orderlies in the province will have risen from 72 to 99. This, the third 20-week course conducted by the school, started November 4 and finishes May 30, 1961. Twenty graduates on November 1.

The Nursing Institute School, an institution in vocational training in Canada, was established in Edmonton last year under the Division of Vocational Training, Alberta Department of Education.

The school serves the entire province. Its course was developed jointly by the Department of Education, the Department of Health, and operating hospitals in the province.

Eight hospitals in Edmonton participate by providing practical in-job training which makes up about half the course, with the balance of time devoted to current medical and nursing theory.

School facilities provide modern hospital furnishings, beds, crutches and orthopedic equipment, including x-ray and a medical library. Subjects include anatomy, psychology, ethics, sociology, personal hygiene, sociology, orthopedics and genetics.

Whether type of this you buy, whether it is wood, metal or fiberglass, you should have the correct length. The old method of measuring the length of your ski so that they are suitable for you is just not good enough anymore.

When you have decided what makes and types of ski that you want, get the salesman (who should be a professional in his field), or a ski instructor to guide you as to what length and stiffness you require.

The old method says your ski should reach the palm of your hand when your arm is stretched straight above your head. This may be correct if you are an experienced skier or rather on the heavy side. If you are light though, you should have a ski that is considerably shorter and medium stiff or fairly soft.

By stiff or soft I am referring to the amount of resistance the ski will give to your hand when holding the ski upright with the heel of the ski on the floor, and holding the tip of your ski with one hand, your feet the center of the ski with the other hand.

Sliding your hand further up between the center of your ski and the tip (the shovel), you should find this part of the ski flexible.

CN Windfall extension well under way

Clearing started about four weeks ago, on a 60 mile extension of the CNR Whitecourt-Windfall line, taking it to the Pan American Pipeline and Hudson's Bay Railway gas plants. To date contracts for clearing have been let to Freeway Construction (Northern Ltd of Peace River), and Reg. Location Clearing Ltd of Slave Lake. No contracts have been let for grade construction, although tenders closed November 15 for the first section.

Contracts for grade construction are being let in three sections, with tenders for section two closing December 3, and section three sometime later. Two major bridges are required: one over the Athabasca and one over the Little Smoky, but in case no information on them from the standpoint of who will be doing the work is when, is available. These camps have been set up to accommodate the men near Windfall, about six miles from the Peace River crossing, and one in the town of Peace River. Projects engineering is being handled out of the Peace River office, as well as most of the supervisory work.

Approximately 30 CN employees are on the project, but this has been going on for several years and there is no information on this time.

Just, with most of them returned as far as track.

Although no officers or senior men are being let in the section, the clearing is substantial, with the work being met as a series of equipment

Numbers of new siding

facilities being constructed in Whitecourt to take care of the additional rail

to appear to be well found.

J.L. Thomson, CNR

public relations officer advised this week that recommendations have been made for budget consideration, and it is expected that within two to three weeks tenders will be declined for the construction of new siding facilities

and gas pipelines, it is the line.

Construction is also being given to a new station, but this has been going on for several years and there is no information on this time.

Under the Improvement District Act, the Minister of Municipal Affairs may provide fire protection (Section 2(1)(b) of the Act) for a district which is described under Section 2(1)(c) of the Act. The fire truck has an effective range of about 7 miles and this truck was paid for by additional taxes levied on the persons residing in the subdivisions adjacent to Edson. During the time the truck was stationed in the Glenwood Hall, it was manned free of charge by the crew and all minor repairs were paid for by the Community Association. With the Mutual Aid Agreement with the Town of Edson now in force, more protection is available as well as a system of calling out the truck, and radio contact has been established between both units and the fire hall. The intention of this provision was to give the most protection to the greatest number of homes in a concentrated area.

"Fools rush in..."

BY FERN ICE
Our Mother was raised on a farm—no one else young lives was a devoted son of mine old today. The trouble was, Mom wanted to have a word the positive side.

but neglected to consider the ones that loved down her favorites.
"You've got off the no-morrow what I can be alone today," so our mother was apt to "let it be" and we went to bed.

being us to the time she decided on the time of the moment, to hand up the house. Then it's the five such and steady to a town near Dad's job.
Dad was not much of a farmer, "what he does it's his own thing," Mom said. "I don't like him," Mom said. "Any way," she continued. "This place is as good as we'll off, but any doubt as to the wisdom of our actions."

She tried to make that so. Mom would like a porch or something, but we knew she just made it up as she went along.
Any way Mom went to town and bought an old wreck of a car, loaded it down with canned food, a bag of potatoes, two huge, freshly baked pies, the family dog and we kids and away we went. What a trip we had!

It began to snow when we were about two hours out. The windshield wipers didn't work so Dad had to stop. The road was slippery but due to the weight also, it didn't slip. Mom couldn't even get out of the car to check out of the road.
The bad time if nothing else so we were alone. One car ahead of us and stuck the north we had prepared "just in case it takes longer than we anticipated."

Finally 12 hours, 200 miles and 10 quarts of oil after we so blithely set forth we reached our destination—the camp where Dad worked.

Dad was so mad he forgot how happy he was supposed to be at the sight of us. "Where is the same as you think you're going to stay," he roared. "Well," cried Mom. "If that's the way you feel about it we will turn round right this minute and head back." Then she wiped an imaginary tear from her eye, the face that would get him, and looked hotly ahead.

Dad had a change of heart as expected and had the cook give us supper. Then he and some of the boys set out to find lodging for the family that bettered "nothing" seemed something gained.

The first house we tried in that winter was haunted. No doubt about it that old shack harbored a spook, he stayed there three days and seventy-five signs or so it turned. The first house was at the top of a hill to steep and rutted that the old car nearly made it to the top, the third was as cold and draughty as a pole cat and just about as attractive.

If we thought we suffered during the trip we changed our minds before the winter was over.
Mom had to buy mother's furniture—one thing she had no bargain for when she decided to "criticize while the iron was hot." We had "cheap" homes in the middle of the season "so in speak, so had a swirl of a time at school.

Incidentally, the town had no arrangements to facilitate the unburied situation, which is common for the shacks in the surrounding area that were not homes for most for a few months—no measurable long years.

When we finally did manage to take up enough money to move back home, we found our home had been combined to two much neglected, we couldn't live in it.

The floor had been laid, some kind had been made in and hauled every pane of glass, the wind had blown the shingles off the roof, most of the household odds and ends had disappeared, and the fresh water spring where we had always been able to get a cool drink was full of dead mice and rabbits.

Oh, it was heart-breaking. In fact we lived on rice and beans for five years before our own place was made habitable again. That's a fact.

SATURDAY, DEC. 14 -- Annual Christmas and Festival in the Talmud H. High School, sponsored by the International Auto Assoc.

Do you have any idea what Mom always said when people so kindly reminded her of her folly? Well, we will tell you. "Experience is a good teacher" so we learned, and then now on we look to her to help. Anyway we got to see how the other folks live and you know what they say "one gets to be worth a thousand words."

We got the picture alright and so did mother. She said when she saw the advice. "You're not in when you're not in," and just between you and me she isn't just visiting Dade. She said it with a conviction that could be interpreted to say "Believe me I know where I speak."

You are very run down," said the doctor to the patient. "I suggest you go to bed for a while and get a good day in here and then at the office."

The K'nétsé Club have once again set up toy boxes in various local stores where local residents may leave gifts for children of all ages.

Not only can adults share Christmas with needy youngsters, but children, themselves, can also appreciate the opportunity to give a gift to someone their own age who may not receive anything other than the toys, games, clothing, etc., included in the Christmas hamper.

Elementary school children have been asked for canned food and non-perishable items which will be picked up and delivered.

There was a satisfying turnout at the recent general meeting of the Edison Rodeo Association. Since the formation of the new association there has been evidence of an increasing interest by the general public and this is bound to be reflected in a well organized, smooth running association and rodeo weekend.

President Jack Hook told the meeting that stock contractor Reg Kesler would be supplying the stock for the 1963 rodeo. Mr. Kesler swelled the stock for

Mr. Berthelson distributed books of 1969 membership tickets to the executive and directors. Any one wishing to become a member of the new Edison and District Rodéo & Exhibition Association may do so by contacting any member of the executive Board of Directors.

It should be pointed out again that the new sodexo association belongs to the public. Anyone can be born who wishes. The Various glee clubs and choirs in town have been getting some extra practices the past few weeks in preparation for an event that has come to be looked forward to each Christmas, . . . the Community Carol Festival.

The festival promises to be bigger and better than ever this year. Not only are there more groups taking part, but in response to the public's request there will more community singing of familiar carols this year. In fact the audience will be called on nine times to sing during the program, and sing each time.

The rest of the program includes the Centennial Chorus, Centennial Chorus Male Quartet, Christian Reformed Children's Choir, Edison Men's Ensemble, Matthijs Mennonite Quartet, the Koot Klippers (Edison's lady barbershop quartet), Pioneer Boys' Choir, Parishes Composite (High School Chorus), Baptist Male Quartet, Pentecostal Girls' Ensemble, First Gospel Church Chorus.

included will be: The Catholic Church Ensemble.

Members of the West Central Alberta Stock Car Association were present in regards to the use of the audio grounds for their activities. After considerable discussion, President Hood asked that Stock Car Association representatives meet with the Radio Association ways and means committee so that a report on recommendations could be

A motion was carried that concessions booths be limited to local organizations and that highway operations not be allowed to sell any foodstuffs handled by local booths.

Mr. Cooley Collins was given a vote of thanks for his efforts during past season. Mr. Collins has worked very hard each year in the parking lot at the video games and at times had to work drastically on his own with no help was available. He has also been active in queen competitions and advertising banners in past years.

No questions asked.

For more than you have in your account, there's an automatic line of credit built right in.

What does the card cost you?

Two dollars. And that's it. There's no cost at all to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Come into The Bank of Nova Scotia. We'll photograph you with our special colour camera.

When you get your Cheque Guarantee Card, carry it at all times. Present it whenever you write a cheque. In a store. In a restaurant. Anywhere.

No delay, no embarrassment, no questions asked.

The Bank of Nova Scotia introduces the Cheque Guarantee Card. What's it good for?

Paying by cheque, your own personal cheque, even in places where you're a complete stranger. Cashing cheques without question, delay or embarrassment.

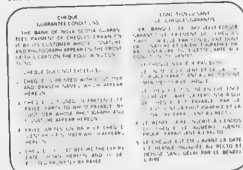

What's so different about this card?

1. It carries your photograph. In living colour. This is proof positive that you are who you say you are. 2. It is proof positive that The Bank of Nova Scotia guarantees payment of your cheques. Anytime. Anywhere.

It's the photograph that does it. Your Scotiabank Cheque Guarantee Card introduces you with instant face-to-face identification. So there's absolutely no risk to the person who's accepting your cheque.

Another advantage. If you should happen to write a cheque

The back of the card tells how the guarantee works.

Scotiabank guarantees your cheques. Anywhere.

A BUSY GROUP - The members of St. John's Hospital Auxiliary held their annual pot luck Christmas supper last Tuesday evening (that kind of 'pot luck' we will take any day). Following the supper a short business meeting was held before a Christmas sing-song was enjoyed and gifts were distributed. Seated above are: Mrs. Phyllis Schultz, secretary; Mrs. Ann May, president; Mrs. Isabel Miller, treasurer. Standing are Mrs. Ann Holmquist, hospital convener; Mrs. Donna Taylor, 2nd vice president; Mrs. Thelma Chasette, past president; Mrs. L. Macdonald, telephone convener.

Molson's built a brewery around this man.

When we decided to build a new brewery, we wanted it to be the best in the world. So we called on the best man for the job. Brewmaster Stevenen is the brilliant Brewmaster who developed a better way to brew beer. Thanks to our new Stevenen Brewery, every bottle is naturally brewed to consistently great flavor. Each carries the Brewmaster's personal stamp of approval. We'll build our reputation around that.

Christmas party enjoyed by oldsters

Members of the Edmont Lodge (OOP), under the direction of Leonard Ruppel, enjoyed a most enjoyable Christmas party on Sunday evening. The lodge's and their brother's had been busy all day Saturday and Sunday in preparing the tables, decorating the Edmont hall and preparing the delicious up of the evening.

Following dinner the party was entertained by dancing music. The girls were shyly accompanied at the piano by Mr. Robert Brown. Talented Kathy Brown sang a fine Christmas song, accompanied by her guitar.

Mr. Fred Hinkle, assisted by his wife, performed some of his magic tricks to the enjoyment of the crowd. Mr. Hinkle is included among Edmont's best known and while his talented hands may not be as dexterous as they once were he proved once more his ability to entertain with his sleight of hand.

Kanta made a brief appearance, collecting from a hat a old and N.C. Good. He had a very busy night coming up.

To close the evening, Rev. Don MacPherson led a sing song of familiar Christmas songs accompanied by Mrs. Tom Johnson at the piano. It was a perfect ending to a most enjoyable evening. As the sing song began members of the Edmont and serving crew of OOP Ladies and Edmont came up from downstairs and joined in.

1811 Storden's asked the guests for a hand of appreciation for her Ladies and assistant Edmont and played heartily in the applause that followed.

Persons of the Senior Citizens Christmas party will be carried to The Leader next week.

Admission Note: Thanks for inviting me, ladies, it was a most enjoyable evening.

City stamp dealer living at Parkland

Edmonton stamp collector have met the 80-year-old Mr. George R. Taylor, who has been a resident of Parkland since 1955. Mr. Taylor is now a resident of Parkland, after selling his home in his 70th birthday. He had started his business in 1915.

Mr. Taylor had a long record of philately service in Edmonton, broken only by his service overseas in the First World War with the 4th Battalion of Edmonton.

His first shop was at the foot of the new Taylor Building where he included the early Journal Building. His first of operations made a complete circle when he returned to the Taylor Building in 1907.

During the 1920s his shop was on Jasper Avenue at 100th Street. From there he moved to the second floor of the Green Building in 1936.

While he has retired from business, he is still very interested in stamp collecting. In fact he adorned two high school stamp clubs recently while in Edmonton.

Edson becomes Ski Centre

Silver Summit Ski Area officially opens Sunday

The Voice of Edson Community

Edson, Alberta Wednesday, December 18, 1968, Vol. 15, No. 50

CN Officials talk about expansion plans

Of most immediate interest to the quarter mile rail wedding plant which the CN expects will be set up in the New Year.

Officials from the Canadian National Railway have announced news to Edson Friday evening when they met with members of the Edson Chamber of Commerce to discuss future company activities in the Edson area.

It will involve 40 or more employees, of which number a proportion will be based locally. The "long" rail line is to be used for the Peter Albert and Vancouver lines. There is also a possibility that rails to be worked for as far east as the Saskatchewan border may be worked here as well.

The idea behind the longer rail is to take the city closer out of Edson town by having fewer joints and to provide a more enjoyable ride for passengers and a smoother passage for freight trains.

The railway company is following the development on the Coast Branch with keen interest as the important coal contracts for the branch will mean increased activity out of Edson for the railway. Edson's position on the main line may mean expansion in engine and engine facilities as the need to de-centralization of some of the services of the company in Edmonton becomes desirable.

The CN officials expressed themselves as being delighted at the chance to meet with Edson business people on such short notice and look forward to continuing discussions as the occasion arises.

Kin Santa out Christmas Eve

The Kinmen Santa's and elves will be making their annual Christmas Eve visit again this year. The Santa's will start on their rounds about 8 o'clock Christmas Eve in order to cover the town by 8:30 p.m. at the latest. All houses wishing a visit from Santa Claus are requested to leave their porch lights on.

The day long waited by local and Edmonton skiers has arrived this week with the opening of the Silver Summit Ski Area. The slopes are scheduled to be open on Friday, December 20th with the official opening set for Sunday, December 22nd at 1:00 p.m.

The opening had been scheduled for last weekend, but was postponed because of one or two last minute holidays that have now been cleaned up.

The Hon. Robert Clark Minister of Education and Youth, will have the honour of cutting the ribbon to officially open the area at 1:00 p.m. Sunday, December 22nd. Clark is expected here with his other government and sports personnel on hand, as well as many hundreds of skiers and other interested people.

Silver Summit features a 4,000 foot double chairlift which was manufactured by Murray-Santa Machine Co. Ltd. of Vancouver. It services all runs from the top of the lift with an intermediate waiting station for the novice skiers at the top of the novice run.

SILVER SUMMIT SKI AREA, as seen from the air. The slopes will open this Sunday and accommodation is already booked solid for the holiday week coming up.

The slopes have a 200 vertical drop. A heavy lift is serviced by a cable tow.

The lodge contains a large cafeteria and dining area, four changing rooms.

For those who like the comfort of home there are single and double hotel type rooms. Dormitories are provided for the skiers who are in the habit of taking their sleeping bags along.

A ski pub shop will feature a leading brand of skis and boots. Equipment will be available for rent or purchase and new skis built will be advised to try before buying so that they are completely satisfied with their equipment for this popular winter sport.

The Silver Summit Ski School is starting out with four qualified full time instructors under the direction of Peter Skene of Norway. Peter is Norwegian certified and has instructed in Switzerland and Australia and has artificial snow at schools in London and New York.

His fellow instructors are Anita Walker, an Australian, certified through the Kensington System, Helen Fitzgerald, a German qualified Australian and Keith Godfrey, a Canadian. All are qualified Australian skiers.

Lifts will be available at all times for all grades.

Silver Summit officials say that the accommodation is already booked solid for the holiday week ahead.

So, finally, the many faces of creating a ski area out of wilderness have been fitted together and residents of Edson, Edmonton and West Central Alberta in particular will enjoy the benefits.

Christmas store hours

For the convenience of shoppers who will be making Edson their Christmas shopping headquarters, local retail merchants will stay open the afternoon of Wednesday, December 18.

Local stores will be open from 9:30 a.m. until 6:00 p.m. on Thursday, Friday, Saturday and Sunday, December 19, 20, 21 and 22nd. They will close on Christmas Eve, December 24th at 6 p.m.

They will be closed on Christmas Day, Sunday Day and New Year Day.

IT WAS A GLAD EVENING last Sunday at Peckland Lodge when the Lions Club held their annual Christmas party for lodge residents. There was delicious dinner, carol singing, a visit from St. Nick and lots of laughter. Mr. Felix Derksen won the cooked turkey that was raffled and posed with carving utensils poised for business over the prize. Santa teased all the ladies as he distributed the gifts, but found Mrs. Heblot a bit shy.

The Winds And The Weather

World wind patterns shape the weather and the fate of growing crops. Nothing demonstrates man's dependence on winds as acutely as the monsoons of Asia.

In summer the great land mass of that continent heats up, the air lightens and low pressure areas form which suck in air from as far away as Australia. Passing over the seas across the winds pick up ample moisture supplies which subsequently pour down on the Malaysian peninsula and adjoining regions, including Japan and India. With astonishing regularity, June marks the arrival of the monsoon rain in light, starvation follows.

In winter, as the Asian land cools, the air is affected and great high pressure areas form and the outward flow begins. When it strikes the towering Himalayas it drops moisture as snow. By the time the wind reaches India the air is dry and cloudless. For six months the sun will shine. The rainfall figures tell the story: In March Bombay has virtually no rain; in July it usually has 25 inches.

The chinook wind in Alberta and Montana has a similar effect. On the western slopes of the Rockies this great west wind drops rain and snow in the feet of the rivers. Then it tumbles down the eastern slopes of the mountains as a warm dry wind. In one February day in Calgary the temperature rose from 14 degrees below zero to an astonishing 75 degrees above.

Most of the western rainfall comes from the south, although it would appear to come from the north. The moisture laden rain clouds from the south are driven upwards by lower cold winds. The higher the clouds rise, the greater the precipitation.

The patient, after a long sleep of treatment for compulsive gambling, was finally promoted cured by his psychiatrist.

"That's great," said the man happily. "Now, we can have a drink to celebrate my cure."

"Fine," agreed the psychiatrist.

"My treat or yours?"

"Get a drink of each," was the answer. "We'll not for it."

DREAMS

Only the dream will last. Some distant day the wheel will fall, and the vision run. Will we the last have trebled to dream. And all men's future change spent and done. Yet after black and sweet and silver are gone. And fish and lobster are dead, the dream lives on. Only the dream is real.

The residents and staff of Parkland Lodge would like to publicly thank members of the Mason Lions Club and the Lady Lions for the wonderful Christmas party they gave on Sunday evening. The dinner, the singing of Christmas carols and other old favorites, and the visit from Santa Claus combined to make a most memorable evening. In fact most of the ladies in the Lodge have been dreaming of Santa Claus ever since.

Canadian Ski Instructors' Association, is the first step-by-step mixing guide to the Canadian method. The official textbook of the C.S.I., it includes a glossary of terms progressing from basic terminology to expert, each explained with illustrations and two color photographs. The book is illustrated with a color plate and a "photo guide" by

Written for the C.S.I. by
D. Campbell, one of the A-ski leaders, it provides an in-depth look at the Canadian method, including the question to which, safety, perfor-

Recently, emphasis has been on the learning of the basic steps and figures of modern western square dance. Later, the pupils will learn folk dances which originated in other countries. The club would like to thank Mr. Jim Hall for having his records and square dance books.

Viewpoints on the importance of a library

IT IS WORTH REMARKING THAT SCHOOL STUDENTS USE, DON'T ABUSE OUR LIBRARIES. By Valerie Nordberg

Many people think that too much money is spent on school libraries. The money that is spent on school libraries is for educational books. It is also used for things that are needed in library and other subjects.

People sometimes think that there should only be encyclopedias in the school. As far as I'm concerned, a library is a necessity in every school.

Why spend a library apportioned to a child? A library must appeal to students so that they feel welcome when they go to the library. The children do not feel welcome if the library is dirty. The children dislike the idea that a library is a place where they should be quiet and not talk. Many people wonder what kind of books should be put in school libraries. The books in libraries should be interesting, fun, and educational. The children should take care of the library by keeping it clean.

WHAT A LIBRARY IS

By Sue Park

I think a library is a wonderful place to have. We have one in our school. A library has many books. There should be easy books and harder books to read, fiction, non-fiction and some are new books. A library there should be tables and chairs to sit at. A library should have interesting stories and a card catalog. In one part of the library there should be a place where there is no disturbance and noise. There are many good books in a library. Our library has just about all these things, and many good books. The library is a wonderful place.

Local government looks to the future

Quite possibly a number of people have wondered what is going on in the north-west corner of town where a bulldozer has been at work for the past while. It was touched on at the December 3rd meeting of Council when a motion was passed to remove the topsoil on roadways in the area.

This will be the next area to be developed as residential lots. Planning ahead for that future development the meeting is being removed for the roadways so that they can be backfilled with clay and gravel.

The topsoil is being piled on selected spots south of the area, for future use and individual lots.

Council granted its approval to the Baptist Church placing a utility easement behind the Church building, for use as a Sunday School, subject to it being approved by Health and Planning authorities for such use. Subject to it being planned on the Cadastre along in any necessary stop-up after the plan and subject to the provisions being laid in a Class and similar try condition after use.

In accord with the provisions of Section 97 of the Municipal Taxation Act, as a result of a portion of the 1968 tax levy is to be made to the Town's Local Limit, in sum equal to the levy of 74.1, as on the building destroyed by fire on Lots 4 and 5, Block 3, Plan 1404 A.C., for that portion of the year from the date of the fire June 28th 1968.

Council also reported on the meeting of the Health Unit Board with Provincial authorities on the proposed setting up of a Health Region.

It was moved that the Town host the Health Unit meeting for such meetings as are held in future.

Council granted the idea of the Cadastre Corp. the use of the area for the survey at inspection, and each Wednesday during the month of May 1969 for parties, village party, subject to the Cadastre along in any necessary stop-up after the

The balance of the 1968 requisition in the sum $100 to the Health Public Library was placed before Council.

Put a Chinook in your car!

An in-car heater is a little convenience that makes winter driving easier, safer.

The temperature may be several degrees below zero. But you're ready to go! With a small convenient electric car heater, your car is comfortable and warm - like the house you just left. No need to turn on the engine ahead of time, before you're ready to leave! No windshield scraping to provide safe-driving vision. Having the convenience of an electric in-car heater is like putting a chinook in your car!

Kin purchase Community Bus

The December 9 general meeting of the Edson Kiwanis Club saw the membership vote unanimously in favor of buying and maintaining a new 48 passenger school bus. This will be a community bus, available to local organizations for transporting groups to various functions and activities throughout the area. Priority in bookings will be given to youth groups.

The bus is presently being painted in the Kiwanis colors. It is expected to be delivered sometime this weekend. Anyone wishing to make bookings are asked to call Danny Peters at 722-4724.

Only six of the fifteen buses being raffled by the Edson Kiwanis have been won. The other twelve prizes to date are: Tom Eriksson, Adrian Klatt, Alex Krasny, Graham Williams, Danny Nessel, Ken Harrison, Cliff Benn, John Paskett and Al Mann. Anyone wanting a chance to win any of the remaining twelve may obtain tickets by contacting any Kiwanis member. Proceeds from the Turkey raffle will help pay for the new Kiwanis bus. TB Christmas Tree. Chairman, Norm Willett, reports that at last count, Edson had reached 66, 19 per cent of its goal of $1,600. This puts Edson among the first runners to the prize.

Help Edson be the first to the prize to reach its goal. If you have not made your contribution yet, you may do so by mailing it to the TB Christmas Tree Committee, c/o Kiwanis Club of Edson.

Biggest turnout at Carol Festival

If Christmas Carolers are conscious of getting into the Christmas spirit then Edson and District should be filled with it following the annual Carol Festival last Saturday evening.

Probably the only thing that could have been wrong with it was that it lasted over so that many families with small youngsters had to leave early to get the small fry to bed. The program was a half hour late in starting so that the last row of the Hallelujah Chorus had died away and the Benediction. The Centennial Chorus was the backbone of the program, remaining on stage the whole evening. Other groups, made up of members of the Chorus, church choir and women's choir, and two school choruses completed the program.

It would be unfair to say that any one group was better than any other, . . . they were all most enjoyable.

The audience also had a finger part in the program. They were asked to sing some carols at intervals during the evening and did so with gusto.

One thing that was very evident during the evening was the caliber of the various singing groups. The Centennial Chorus showed the experience they get from their singing and local residents can look forward to many more programs by them. They are under the direction of Paul Skowron who certainly knows how to bring out their musical best.

The annual Carol Festival is sponsored by the Municipal Association who are to be commended for organizing a program that adds so much to the Christmas season.

Your-and bride honored

Mr. Les Halliwell, Mrs. Ray Kitchin and Mr. Carl Spence Jr. were honored at a milestone dinner on December 17 honoring Shirley Preston.

The dinner was held in the basement of the Pentecostal Tabernacle. Mrs. Preston will become the bride of Edson Prince on December 29.

The bride's chair, and audience, were decorated with pink and white streamers, lights and flowers.

Mr. John Hill showed some of her home movies after which the bride was opened her many gifts. The guest of honor thanked everyone for the lovely gifts and expressed her surprise at the number of people in attendance.

She is the wife of that well known, being an out-of-town girl. The evening was brought to a close with a delicious lunch served to all who came. Several other ladies besides the bride, contributed to the lunch.

Season's Greetings to One and All

TWO CUTE FIRST BABIES—Todd James Prisman, known to his parents as "T.J.," and Mrs. Gary Prisman as "T.J.," was the 1968 first baby. Four year old Dalveen Colleen Horne, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Horne was 1965's first baby. They lived side by side until the Prismans moved to Fox Creek in September.

In this last issue of the Leader for 1968 the businessmen and women of Edson have taken the opportunity to extend their best wishes to all the many people whom they have had the privilege of serving during the past year.

We at The Leader also extend our Best Wishes for a Christmas day of peace, happiness and excitement and a New Year filled with health, friendship, prosperity, all the things that make up a full, rich life.

At the same time we extend a big thank you to our advertisers, our country correspondents, everyone who has brought in news or given us tips on news stories or pictures, our subscribers and our readers everywhere. It is a big responsibility to record the week by week history of an area and we at The Leader appreciate the many ways, large and small, in which you, our readers, help us to do this.

Who will 1969's first baby be?

Their gifts are listed in a two page ad elsewhere in The Leader and show once more how lucky some little tid or tan will be to be born in such a friendly town as Edson.

The first baby born in St. John's Hospital in 1969 will also have the distinction of being the last New Year's baby of the year in the old St. John's. It is expected the new hospital will be in use by next July.

EMO Exercise

There will be an important exercise for Edson Emergency Measures Organization headquarters on Wednesday evening, January 4, 1969. For personnel, who will be warned, should hold their fire in readiness to take part in the exercise.

District Bible Society Canvass a Huge Success

Through the efforts of four area ladies and one church offering, the Canadian Bible Society collected a total of $104.50 in the Fern and Nisus areas.

Mrs. Rita Morris canvassed the town of Fern, Mrs. Mary Ann Hogarty and Mrs. Tina Videns the McLeod Valley area, Mrs. Tina Videns the Head-dock area and Mrs. Paula Van Dyke the Nisus Junction-Mackay area.

The Nisus Evangelical Church held an offering at their Sunday services and collected a total of $11.70. The Nisus canvass brought $4.40, the Head-dock canvass $34.15, the McLeod Valley canvass $17.00, and the town of Fern $12.75. Since it was impossible to cover the entire area in the week set aside for the canvass, it is obvious many homes were missed. If there are any that would still like to contribute, they may do so by sending their gifts to Rev. Peter Hogarty, Fern, Alberta. A receipt will be sent for income tax purposes and Rev. Hogarty will forward your gift to the Canadian Bible Society.

Kin Santos out Christmas Eve

The Kinmen Santa's and wives will be making their annual Christmas Eve visit again this year.

The Santa's will start on their routes about six o'clock Christmas Eve in order to cover the town by 8:30 p.m. at the latest.

All homes wishing a visit from Santa Claus are requested to leave their porch lights on.

A great big "Thank You" must go out to the women who spent so much time travelling through the country and in the towns. And, of course, a big thank you to the many generous contributors. Without you this first canvass in our area would hardly have been such a huge success.

Peter Hogarty

Christmas Greetings

ROOM HERE IS FURF . . . a night drive around town to view the decorated homes and lawns of local residents. Many have special originality and almost everyone has colored lights outlining windows or eaves.

Guards Fall at Christmas

At this time of giving and getting, the best gift of all is Christmas itself. For a few brief days we shed the coat of cynicism and dare to be ourselves. What is deep in our hearts, comes to the surface.

Perhaps the world of steel girders, roaring traffic, flashing lights and publication controls accounts for our fear of any sort of sentiment. Though we come in constant contact with masses of people, and can summon every corner of the globe with a turn of the television knob, psychiatrists see our core personal problem is a sense of isolation and loneliness. We are afraid to open the barriers we erect about ourselves and let others in.

Witness how, on those occasions when we do give voice to faith or trust or affection, we preface them with dodgy phrases. "I don't want to seem maudlin, maybe it's old-age creeping up, I know this sounds square."

At Christmas we can drop the guards as we let our hands, lips and pens communicate the goodwill and empathy that usually struggle below the surface, strangely muted.

In this short season of beauty we listen to the carols, meet old greeting cards winged with grateful memories dwell again on the age-old story of earth's renewal through a babe whose advent brings a breath of hope and healing to a hard-boiled, ailing world.

A Farmer Wife Looks at Christmas

The Savior's presence blessed;
But O, I'm glad his love shines too,
O'er dearth and famine of the week!
Where farmers toil both night and day,
To till the fertile soil;
And in rose petals, bright with dew,
See finger prints of God.
The Indian on far Andes heights,
The fakir in the arid,
May see the Cross' glorious light -
The Love of Jesus know,
Though strife and hatred mar earth's plains,
Unshaken hearts still shine,
With love and mercy, like a Star -
The Christmas Star Divine!
Though bombs explode, and missiles fly,
Still, in the Christ Child's birth,
The world's glorious nucleus finds,
For peace, cockill on earth!

Child's Christmas Prayer

Dear Jesus,

Tomorrow is Christmas Day, And it's always so wonderful!

You know how I can't seem to sleep the night before, so help me. Last year I was greedy and brought to the other kids about my gifts. Don't let me do it this time. I wasn't very thankful either to George and Grandma. Help me be kind to them tomorrow.

Jesus, I know that you and I understand Christmas. This was the day you were a baby. I guess you and I have the same hands and tongue. You were a small boy like me, and that is really something special.

But Mom and Dad don't seem to feel what I do. I pray that you would make a Christmas a real day for them. They do give me nice things and Mom has a lot of good stuff to eat. But they somehow don't want to talk about you, or read the Christmas story, or sing those songs. I like the wisdom, the stars, the shepherds, the angels.

Perhaps you can give Christmas to my Mom and Dad, and to Grandma's too. Help me to be nice.

Why were you born in a manger? Amen.

For Everyone

The Spirit of Christmas Lingers Long

Again it is Christmas, and for those with eyes to see there is joy in the world about us. There is a certain feeling in the air, there is a warm stirring within our individual hearts.

Christmas is but one day, although the most magnificent and eventful day in the history of man's life upon this earth. Yet, with the monotonous march of the seasons, only Christmas comes so early and lingers so long.

It begins, perhaps, sometime in November when youngsters begin to count the days and mind their manners. It seems much nearer when schools and churches begin re-hearsing holiday pageants and planning holiday decorations.

Should snow fall in early December, everyone becomes more aware of the approaching holiday. There's a bit of a spring in every step, a happy ring to the voices we hear.

The gradual quickening of heart and spirit becomes full-blown with the arrival of Christmas Eve. With the passing of gifts and greetings and the observance of family traditions, we gratefully accept the opportunity to return in heart and spirit to Bethlehem. In silence we may sit again in the church by the side of the road and find our heart filled with joy and gladness.

And, come what may, we feel we shall not soon forget THIS Christmas Day.

The Rhyming Philosopher

CHRISTMAS

May all your troubles fade away
As we approach this Christmas Day.
May all your dreams and aspirations
Come true beyond your expectations.
May happiness be yours and endless,
And may you never more be friendless.
There's none so poor but who can share
A cloak, a nap, a little care.
While some may succor foreign nations,
Those closer need our ministrations.
So, make a friend, without pretension -
Brotherhood sans condemnation.
So may your Christmas star be bright -
In this dark world a signal light.
That you and yours have peace forever
And prosper in each good endeavor.
Thus may a Merry Christmas find you
With all the worst of life behind you.

THE WAY TO A HAPPY NEW YEAR

To leave the old with a burst of song;
To forget the things that bind you fast
To vain regrets of the year that's past;
To have the strength to let go your hold
Of the not worthwhile of the days grown old;

To dare go forth with a purpose true
To the unknown task of the year that's new;
To help your brother along the road,
To do his work and lift his load,
To add your gift to the world's good cheer
Is to have and to give a happy New Year.

Greetings from B.C.

We wish everyone back here in British Columbia a Merry Christmas and very happy New Year.

It seems strange to be sending Christmas greetings while flowers bloom and grass is green.

Many B.C.ites look out of more windows at a beautiful, well lighted hill overlooking an emerald town. Far off, under people's feet, are the hills of the Coast Range, and children chatter about those hockey.

Some feel very far away however. The mist-laden mountains, eternally shrouded in mist, are startlingly white and stand on an emerald base. ## Permits needed for motorized Toboggans in National parks

Opportunities for interesting winter toboggan trips in most National Parks and greater control of their use are provided for in a new policy directive recently issued by the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development.

The purpose of the directive is to encourage safe use of motorized vehicles and to ensure that wildlife and forest growth are protected. The right and pleasure of trail users and snowshoers must also be safeguarded.

For the 1968-69 season, a free permit will be required to operate a motor vehicle in the parks. Next year, however, it is expected that there will be a charge. The vehicle must be equipped with a snow shifter in good condition.

On entering a park, operators will be informed what trails can be used and how approved trails are marked. The trails will be supervised and some may have to be closed temporarily if they become too worn or dangerous.

During this glorious Christmas, people far and near reverently celebrate His birth. Let the true spirit of the season abide throughout the land, and to you and yours, a glad Christmas

Ham Isn't Turkey - So Don't Fowl It Up

When Mother brings the holiday ham out of the oven - cooked to perfection - it deserves the best. Carved with the professional touch, it is worthy companion for the most discriminating appetite.

Fabelhaft!

Brewmaster Steinbocker said it first. It means "fabulous" and he should know. He took all the traditions of his Bavarian forefathers, added the touch of genius - and came up with a better way to make beer. Our new Steinbocker Brewbeers guarantees that every bottle is naturally brewed to consistently great flavour. Not one is sold until the Brewmaster says the word. And the word is "Fabelhaft!"

The CHRISTMAS STORY...

On that night many years ago, as white stars glittered and angels' voices rang out triumphantly to proclaim his coming, there was born unto mankind, a Saviour. Humble shepherds, gathered in the fields tending their flocks, heard the message and came in haste to visit the babe lying in a manger, and they were filled with joy.

Far to the East, the Wise Men saw the great Star of Bethlehem and they followed it to where the Young Child was, bringing rare and precious gifts in their adoration.

Across the ages, the ever-wonderful story of the birth of Christ inspires mankind with a feeling of new hope. Today, in the spirit of the Holy Season, it is for us to rededicate ourselves to His teachings and humbly pray that the ideal of brotherhood will light the way to a lasting peace in this troubled world.

Let us rejoice in the true meaning of Christmas with sincere reverence and harken to the words of the angel, "Glory to God in the highest, and on earth peace, good will toward men."

There are only a few of the popular gift items offered to Canadians by the T. Eaton Co. in its Christmas catalogue of 1897.

Local School Board begins monthly meetings The First Nowell

A meeting of the local school board was held in the Central Elementary School on Tuesday, December 18.

In the meeting, several of the board members were taken for a tour of the school by Principal Mr. Don Wright, Mr. Wright also explained briefly the running of the school.

It is the role of the local school board to hold the meetings at each of the school in the district.

During the meeting, the following matters came up for discussion:

(1) The advantages and disadvantages of term teaching.

(2) The possibility of following the same schedule as the trustees through-out the province so that transient students would not be at a disadvantage when moving from one town to another.

(3) Can we be expected about the large classes in the playground school.

(4) Recommendation that the local school board should not move children from one school to another without first consulting with the parents of the children concerned.

A special note of thanks is extended to the staff of the local school board who have been so busy in the past few days.

Thanks also to the other youth groups who are representatives to the adults who supplied transportation for the children who did the singing, and to the United Church Ladies who served the very welcome coffee and doughnuts to the children.

Thanks everyone for buying these packages of delight which will be helping out at your local school.

A few packages of put on will be obtained this week at Collins Grocery if we missed calling at your house.

Park Highways

For those who visit the Memorial Park during the holiday season the following should be noted:

Highways 16 and 10 will be closed from 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Travel on Highway 10 is restricted to the hours of 10 a.m. to 10 p.m.

Motorists are advised that in order to visit the park and to visit of interest, they should allow for a full hour of travelling time when leaving Jasper.

Public bus service is suspended with good snow time or rain.

(5) Desirability that only one photograph be given permission by the District Board to take photographs at all schools in the area.

Mr. Mills, Divisional Trustee for Edson was present at the meeting and was asked to investigate some of these problems.

Mr. Mills also discussed some matters in which the local school board could be most useful, such as moving more teachers, helping them to find accommodation, and to try and understand some of their problems.

The next meeting of the local school board will be held in the A.J. Tait School on Tuesday, January 7, 1969 at 8:00 p.m.

Parents of children at any of the Edson schools who wish to attend will be welcome.

From Drinking Song To Christmas Ballad

"On the first day of Christmas, my true love sent to me a partridge in a pear tree."

So begins "The Twelve Days of Christmas," a traditional and festive song of the holiday season.

The ballad with the story of the gifts is a story of the 12 days from Christmas to Epiphany.

The first gift, a partridge in a pear tree, may have been inspired by an old drinking song "A partridge in a pear tree."

As a ballad, "The Twelve Days of Christmas" is an example of the "cumulative form" in which each verse adds a new gift to the list of the previous verses.

As a drinking song, it is a song of the holiday season.

We Three Kings

We three Kings of Orient are, Beating time, we traverse land,
Field and fountain, moor
and mountain,
Following yonder star,
O Star of wonder, Star of night,
Star with royal beauty
bright,
We follow thee, all praying and still proceeding,
Guide us to the perfect light.

Frankness to offer him, become a King's night,
Following yonder star,
O Star of wonder, Star of night,

Edson Ministerial Conducts Routine Year-End Business

Final plans were made for the annual Christmas Carol Festival. At this writing, the Festival is over, and the biggest crowd in the Festival's six years of existence, was on hand to enjoy all the different numbers from the many groups that participated in the program.

Four area ministers participated in the program along with the conductor of the Centennial Chorus, the Rev. Paul Shawcross. Jim McAllister of the Pentecostal Church conducted the audience singing. Peter Gregory of the Pentecostal Church gave a brief presentation on the theme of Jesus.

Rev. MacPherson gave some closing remarks, along with an explanation of the year-end business. The Ministerial Association of the Centennial Chorus met on Monday at 10:00. The Association will meet again on Monday at 10:00.

CHRISTMAS MESSAGE

I sincerely appreciate this opportunity, first as Pastor of Edson, and second as a member of the Centennial Chorus. I am grateful to you for your participation in this program for the year-end business.

Some 1,000 church dignitaries are to be present for the Edson and Peace area. These will be given by the Ministerial Association and placed in the Tourist Information Bureau and in local hotels and motels. They will give such information about area services as they feel it necessary to receive passing through who want a place to work on Sunday, and to newcomers in our area looking for a new church home for their family.

The Year End will start our right for the Ministerial Association on January 7, at 10:00 a.m., when Pastor Gregory will deliver a short message paper and Rev. MacPherson will conduct devotion at the Edson United Church.

Another is done, we hope to work here into God's glory.

of life, to commemorate the great important event of all time. This event was the birth of Jesus Christ, the Son of God, who came to earth to save us from sin and to bring us into the Kingdom of God.

Many of you, in your homes, enjoy a Christmas Eve service with your loved ones and friends, and may I, personally, and on behalf of your Government, wish for each of you the best and happiest future years you have ever known.

The Chief Clerk came for the express purpose of receiving news from the cause and the consequences of our Government's mission. This fact is recognized. The beauty of our lives improves on the message which the birth of Jesus Christ brought to the world. The birth of Jesus Christ is the birth of peace on earth and good will to men.

They sang, "Peace on earth, good will towards men" and their song has echoed and is echoed to the hearts of men through the centuries.

Like the sparkling beauty of a snowy landscape, hearts are filled with peace and good will. Over the mountains, through the woods or wherever you'll be at Christmas, we wish you a merry one and sincere "Thanks" for your continued support.

out the world was done. Even though the fullness of the Christmas season of Christmas may seem beyond our present reach, its eternal celebration is around us all who recognize that peace on earth and good will among men are bound up inseparably with an unbroken allegiance to Him and to the practical daily lives of the children of this world.

The past year has been marked by far-reaching world developments which have given great peace and stability and added importance to the age-old problem of human relationship as between man and nation.

As we celebrate Christmas with all the joy and wholesome happiness we can command, we should not forget that we live our "moments," and strive to make Christmas a world that will be in our country of Christ.

It is our country of Christ that we can hope for the future. It is our country of Christ that we can hope for the future.

Babysitters Training Course for Young People

The local Chapter of the Alberta Young People's Association will be sponsoring a baby-sitter training course for all interested girls and boys, age 11 years and over.

The course will begin Wednesday, January 16, 1969 at 7:00 p.m., and will be held at the Edson Health Club Office. The course will contain of six sessions, each session will last two hours and will be held once a week.

Baby sitters provide a valuable service to the families in the community. When these young people become parents, by the hour, they should be prepared to meet certain basic standards of proficiency. Baby sitting is a job to be taken seriously and is not just a means to earn pocket money. A conscientious sitters will do everything possible to insure the health and happiness of the child.

Government sells live buffalo

Mr. W. McKinn, the Western Regional Director of the National and Historic Parks of the Department of Indian Affairs and Northern Development, is pleased to announce the successful sale of Canadian citizens, of 100 buffalo, in bands of approximately 25 animals from the National Park, which is located 25 miles east of Edmonton, Alberta.

The animals made available for public trade in 10 bands of approximately 25 animals to a band, are surplus to 100 buffalo which can be adequately cared for in the limited grazing lands available within the Park. These were three bands of mixed male and female animals with the other four being mostly males.

A successful band management program has been practiced for some time.

Snowmobiles and Thin Ice

An urgent warning for all snowmobile owners to check ice this season before leaving their homes. The Alberta Snowmobile Association is reminding owners that the ice is thin and dangerous.

Mr. God Bertram, president of the Edmonton Snowmobile Club and vice president of the Alberta Snowmobile Racing Association, believes a minimum of 100 lbs. of ice is needed for a snowmobile to be safely taken onto the surface.

This is only one of the many dangers of snowmobile use in winter.

How the Good Gifts were used by Two Brothers

MIS is the way that this story begins:

Once upon a time there was a rich brother and a poor brother, and the one lived across the street from the other.

The rich brother had all of the world's goods that were good for him; he had money as for the poor brother, why, he had hardly enough to keep soap and body together, yet he was contented with his lot, and contentment is the best thing in the world; whereas the poor did not sit aick of the stone in his shoe, but was contented with it; wherefore in this the rich brother had less than the poor brother.

Now these things happened in the good old times when the saints used to be good bidden by the word upon the streets and upon that. So one day, who should see the same face again, but the rich brother and the poor brother lived, but Saint Nicholas.

the great house of the sixth brother went the east and knocked at the door, and it was the fifth brother who came, and he opened it to him.

"Now, Saint Nicholas had a long beard, and his hair was quite covered with dust, and looked no better than he should have done. He seemed to be only a common beggar, and the sixth brother heard him ask for a night's lodging at his firm, great house, because he was so tired and weary.
What! Did the traveller think that he kept a free lodging-house for beggars? If he did he was bringing his guests to shame, for there was no place for the likes of him in the house, and that was the truth. The sixth brother shut the man's house across the street, if he went even there perhaps he could get a night's lodging and a crust of bread. That was the sixth brother said, and after he had said that he banged the door, and left Saint Nicholas in the street, and opened under the blessed sky.

So now there was nothing for good Saint Nicholas to do but to go across the street to the poor brother's house, as the other had told him to do. Tap! tap! tap! he knocked at the door, and it was the poor brother who came and opened the door for him.

"Come, in, come in," said he, "come in and welcome!"

So he came Saint Nicholas, and set himself down behind the stove where it was good and warm, while the poor man's wife spread before him all that they had in the house: the best of the bread and a crack of cold water from the town fountain.

"And is that all that you have to eat!" said Saint Nicholas.

Yes; that was all that they had.

Then, maybe, I can help you to better," said Saint Nicholas. "So long as I have a bowl and a crack of cold water from the town fountain."

Then he said, "Bow! be filled!" and straightway the bowl began to boil up with a good rich meat potage until it was full to the brim. Then the saint said, "Bow!

be stifled" and it stopped making the breath, and there stood as good a man as could wish for.

Then the Saint Nicholas said, "Crock be filled!" and the crock began to bubble up with the best of cider. Then he said, "Crock be stifled!" and there stood as good drink as man ever poured down his throat.

Down they all sat, the saint and the poor man and the poor man's wife, and ate and drank till they could eat and drink no more, and whenever the bowl and the crock grew empty, the one and the other became filled at the bid-

The next morning the saint trudged off the way he was going, but he left behind him the bowl and the crock, so that there was no danger of hunger and

Well, the world jogged along for a while, maybe a month or two, and life was as easy for the poor man and his wife as an old shoe. One day the rich brother said to his wife, "See now, Luck seems to be stroking our brother over yonder the right way; I'll just go and see what it all means."

So over the street he went, and found the poor man at home. Down he sat back of the stove and began to chatter and talk and talk and chatter, and the upshot of the matter was that, bit by bit, he dragged out the whole story from the poor man. Then nothing would do but he must see the bowl and the crock at work. So the bowl and the crock were brought and the crock and—blui!—how the rich brother opened his eyes when he saw them making good broth and cider of them.

And now he must and would have that bowl and crock. At first the poor brother said "No," but the other bargained and bargained until, at last, the poor man consented to let him have the two for a hundred coins. So the rich brother paid down his hundred coins, and off he marched with what he wanted.

When the next day had come, the rich brother said to his wife, "Never you mind about the dinner today. Go out into the harvest field and I will see to the dinner." So off went the wife with the harvesters, and the husband stayed at home and smoked his pipe all the morning, for he knew that dinner would be ready at the bidding. So when noon had come he took out the bowl and the crack, and, placing them on the table, said, "How be filled? crack be filled?" And straightway they began making brew and cider as fast as they could.

In a little while the bowl and the crack were filled, and then they could hold no more, so that the broth and cider ran down all over the table and the floor. Then the rich brother was in a pretty pickle, for he did not know how to bid the bowl and the cork to stop from making what they were making. But he ran and across the street to the poor man's house, and a calculate the fifth and sixth filled it which, when once it could hold no more, and then ran out into the gutters so that all the pigs and dogs in the town had a feast that day.

"Oh, dear brother!" cried the rich man to the poor man, "do tell me what to do or the whole town will soon be smothered in death and order."

3,500 Swedish Canadian honkers

A whole colony of Canadian honkers has been built up at the University of Saskatchewan since 1966. But the first appearance of the honkers in the province dates back to the pre-Confederation decade when honking honks began to appear in the province.

Convinced over the danger of contamination in their native habitat, they introduced the honk to Sweden to save them from poverty. The experiment was fantastic success.

The number of Swedish Canadian honkers has increased to 3,500, and they are expanding their territory from south to north—somewhere between 10 and 15.

How to Make 'Apple People,' for Family Fun

Fun for the family on Christmas afternoon can start with putting up apple — and making a doll apple — and making a doll apple.

So says Mrs. Mona Belle Faherty of Springfield, Mo., who taught to Rose Funt the same start, positive an apple. Mrs. Faherty has won renown as a designer and creator of apple dolls. Making the dolls is a family project, in which she enters the aid and enthusiasm of her husband, Ben, and her daughter, Dorothy.

Apple dolls are in the tradition of making dolls from materials at hand, and they reflect the home craftsmanship of early America. Though toy specialists have revived the custom of making little dolls, they are still quite a novelty. And says Mrs. Faherty, apple dolls will always be unique because no two heads turn out the same.

Even though the features are identically carved in fresh apples, the final result cannot be known until the apple heads have completely dried.

In the Faherty family, wire bodies for the dolls are constructed by Mr. Faherty, while the apple heads are carved by Dorothy Faherty, a professional artist who is in private life Mrs. W. L. Murphy.

Mrs. Faherty completes the dolls with unusual costumes made according to patterns which she creates.

Whatever the division of craftsmanship, any family group can easily make apple dolls for holiday fun or year-round enjoyment, maintains Mrs. Faherty.

Put carved apple on sticks and insert sticks into holes provided for a collar for either container. Set this in a graniteware bowl.

Place a light-colored candle in a small dish and set it on a mound of damp sand, inside the bowl and alongside the apple.

Leave bowl and leave apple inside until apple is burned up. This will preserve color of the apple, and will dry it so which might be possible.

Remove apple and set in dry, indoors. This usually takes two weeks or longer. To further preserve the apple color, add clear nail polish to the face immediately after apple is dry.

Apple doll bodies can be constructed from wire and bits of wood. The wire should be sturdy, but flexible enough for arms and legs that can be bent as well or made to stand or sit.

Wire body, arms and legs are covered with cotton batting. Cotton thread, around batting and fasten to body firmly.

Mrs. Faherty recommends white-headed Boreal pine for eyes. Cut off the point, push pin into eye socket and paint the "iris."

Arms, hands and feet can be made of wire, painted with all color for flesh tones, and toes of feet indicated with a brown pencil or painted on. Then, the apple dolls are ready for dressing.

Mrs. Faherty likes her apple dolls to be about nine inches high, and says they are "much easier" than any flowers, she decorated a special festive doll, which she made for the Christmas season at the Christmas Christmas Shop, on Melville Road in Springfield.

APPLE DOLLS BECOME characters of dolls in images, or created and dressed by Mrs. Mona Belle Faherty of Springfield, Mo. The leaves and textured bodies for dresses and bodies with apple cores, in shape of dolls of "apple" dolls. Apple dolls were made by Mrs. Faherty.

Frosty Toothpick Tree

Here's a Christmas decoration that will brighten any holiday table or mantle and contribute to the holiday spirit at your house. Supplies you'll need include eight layers of round toothpicks, a can of snow spray, sixteen one-inch styrofoam balls, and miniature ornaments in many colors.

Whole you're getting materials together, don't forget to round up the kids. Let them take part in the fun. They can begin by sticking toothpicks, as many as will fit, into each styrofoam ball. Then form the base of the tree by arranging seven pin-cushion balls in a circle. Pop a circle of five toothpick balls on the base, then a circle of three, and finally, one.

You can vary your winter wonderland atmosphere by using larger styrofoam balls for bigger trees, or by stringing the balls in a circle to form an attractive wreath like the one shown above. And perhaps for a touch of how-ever-old you make them, questions from admiring guests.
